

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

Dover, Delaware, January, 1909.

To the Speaker of the House of Representatives.

Sir:—I, as President of the Senate, will appear in the Hall of the House of Representatives attended by the Senate on Monday next, January the 11th, 1909, at 11 o'clock in the forenoon, to open and publish the returns of the election for Governor and Lieutenant-Governor, held on the Tuesday next after the first Monday in the month of November last in accordance with the provisions of the Constitution of the State in that behalf.

I. T. PARKER,

President of the Senate.

On motion of Mr. Sparks the concurrent resolution was adopted.

Ordered to the House for concurrence.

On motion of Senator Sparks the stenographers were put on the list for supplies the same as the clerks.

Inaugural Committee reported that they had performed the duty assigned to them.

Hon. Joseph L. Caball, Secretary of State, was announced and on being admitted presented the bi-ennial message of Governor Lea and accompanying documents.

On motion of Mr. Flinn the Governor's message was order read and spread upon the journal as follows:

GOVERNOR'S MESSAGE.

State of Delaware,

Executive Department.

To the General Assembly:

The purposes of good government are best served when the several departments maintain close relation, without attempting to exercise undue influence one over the other or seeking to nullify the checks and balances established in the constitutional divisions of powers or functions of the said departments.

In this spirit and in observance of the constitutional injunction that the Executive "give to the General Assembly information of affairs concerning the State and recommend to its consideration such measures as he shall judge expedient," I present my second biennial message containing such information concerning the State and its affairs as seems of especial importance, together with my recommendations and suggestions, having for their purpose the improvement of the public service.

The subject of especial importance to which I desire to call your attention is the condition of the finances of the State.

The State Treasurer, at the close of business on December 21, 1908, showed balances in General Fund of $113,729.82, in School Fund of $5,181.18, and in Sinking Fund of $5,412.09, aggregating the sum of $124,323.09.

The balance in General Fund includes the sum received from the Federal government in settlement of the War of 1812 claim.

In the last Treasurer's report there was standing to the credit of the Sinking Fund the sum of $20,662.06, to which fund certain payments were made during the course of the past year. This fund was on deposit in the State depository, and was not drawing interest. It was deemed wise to invest said funds in interest bearing securities. We therefore purchased, at reasonable price, $20,000.00 of our own State Bonds.

It was impossible to secure a statement of the full year's work from the State Treasurer as his term expires the same day on which this Message reaches you.

Full and detailed statements of the finances will be found in the reports of the State Treasurer and State Auditor.

These reports contain all the facts and information necessary to give you a comprehensive grasp of this important subject.

I feel called upon to renew the suggestions made in my message of 1907 concerning the State deposits and depositories.

I have not heard any convincing argument offered against the proposition that the State deposits should be treated with the same liberality which is accorded the individual depositors.

I suggest the propriety of enacting a State Depository law which shall provide, among other things, that the State funds should be deposited in certain designated National and State banks and trust companies having banking powers; that such designated depositories should be required to give good and sufficient bond, containing warrant of attorney to confess judgment in favor of the State in double the amount of the deposit which may be made therein; that such designated depositories should be required to pay interest to the State at the rate of two per centum per annum, upon the daily balances, the credit of such interest to be made semi-annually.

The subject of appropriation of public funds will demand your careful consideration.

The general appropriation bill, containing all the fixed charges against the State, such as the salaries and expenses of the several State departments and officers, the usual appropriations for educational, scientific, charitable and beneficent purposes, should be enacted by you early in the session. Having ascertained the probable income for the two succeeding years, and having disposed of the general charges against this fund, you will be prepared to adjust the sum which may safely be specially appropriated and save the State a deficit.

I renew the suggestion contained in my last biennial message that "Rigid economy in public affairs would receive a healthy impulse if the General Assembly would exercise the greatest care in the appropriation of money and advocate only those measures involving the expenditure of public funds, which would commend themselves to the approval and public spirit of the citizens of this State."

Every encouragement should be given by the State and its people to the development and improvement of its inland waterways, especially the Ship Canal connecting the Delaware and Chesapeake Bays.

The proposition of straightening and deepening our rivers inspires a lively interest in the minds of all our citizens and the promotion of which should be fostered and furthered by every legislative enactment consistent with public policy and the State finances.

Without reference to the extension or non-extension of the Local Option law I believe the license tax should be materially increased.

INHERITANCE TAX.

We now have a statute which levies, under certain conditions, a collateral inheritance tax. The propriety of levying also a direct inheritance tax may well engage your attention. I do not look upon a tax of that character as a method for the reduction of swollen fortunes. I view it solely as another effort to equalize the burdens of society. It should not be levied upon small inheritances; but after the proper limit is passed, there is no reason which justifies the collateral inheritance tax which will not also sustain one upon direct inheritance.

I trust that you will interest yourselves in the subject, and take such action as the best interest of the State requires.

TREASURY WARRANTS.

The want of proper legislation upon this subject enables certain appropriations to be drawn from the State funds in bulk upon filing with the Treasurer certain statements or requisitions, among them the appropriation to the State Board of Agriculture, the Peninsula Horticultural Society and Farmers' Institute.

Good business judgment would suggest that a voucher duly approved by the officer or officers contracting the debt should accompany the warrant and that the check of the Treasury therefor be issued and forwarded to the creditor direct.

The State appropriates $200 annually to the Farmers' Institute in each County. No accounting of these funds to the State has recently been made. On calling for the statements I find there is to the credit of the Institute of New Castle County $699.35 on the third day of February, 1908.

This balance is largely in excess of the amount appropriated and represents an accumulation which should have reverted to the State Treasurer.

If the use of warrants as suggested above had been in force this accumulation would have remained in the State Treasury.

The proposed method is applicable to all funds except the appropriation to the Organized Militia of Delaware. The expeditious movement of the troops in case of riot or on functional occasions necessitates the funds being in the hands of the authorized officers of the organization.

I recommend your careful consideration of this measure.

TAXATION AND REVENUE COMMISSION.

Pursuant to the recommendation in my biennial message of 1907, the General Assembly created a Revenue and Taxation Commission; the said Commission was authorized and directed to make a study of the underlying principles of taxation, to inquire into the methods adopted by our sister States and to recommend definite legislation which would raise the needed revenue for the State, without resorting to a direct tax, and still be based upon a consistent and understandable system.

The report of this Commission will be presented at this session for your information and study.

The scope of investigation of the Commission has not been as comprehensive as it desired. Want of time and resources necessarily limited its investigation and research. It is a grave subject and a proper solution of the difficult situation is one involving much time and patient study.

I desire to especially call your attention to the importance of continuing the present Commission, unchanged as to its personnel, with a view that our entire revenue and taxation laws may be reduced to a coherent and logical system founded upon well defined and basic principles.

Permit me to caution you against levying a State tax upon farm lands as they now bear their full measure of public burdens.

I suggest that the existing vacancy in the Commission be filled by the Speaker of the House of Representatives and that provision be made for filling any vacancy which may hereafter occur.

I heartily endorse the several recommendations contained in the report of the Commission and suggest that laws be early enacted to carry them into effect.

WAR CLAIM OF 1812.

Much credit is due the Attorney-General of this State for the efficient work and arduous labor involved in establishing, and finally collecting, the claim growing out of expenditures for the general defense of the federal government during the war with Great Britain in 1812.

This fund was collected pursuant to Chapter 366, as amended by Chapter 861, Volume 19, Laws of Delaware, which provided "That the Attorney-General of the State of Delaware shall have full authority for the State of Delaware to apply for and collect any claim the said State may have against the United States and to execute receipts or acquittances for the same; provided, however, that the same shall be done without any expense to or future claim upon said State. And to this end he is hereby authorized and empowered to employ, at his own expense, such person or persons as he may deem necessary to ascertain and secure the payment of the same. As a compensation for his services the State Treasurer shall pay him twenty-five per centum on all such claim or claims which existed prior to the year 1860, and fifteen per centum on all claim or claims which accrued between the first day of January, 1860, and the first day of January, 1880. There shall accompany the payment of any moneys which may be paid into the State Treasury under this resolution a statement showing the period to which it belongs, and the State Treasurer shall thereupon immediately draw a draft for the payment of the commissions on the amount or amounts collected."

The net sum turned into the State Treasury was $62,437.88 which is now credited to the General Fund.

The expenditures for general defense made by this State during the War of 1812 were mainly derived from funds secured by loans to the State and the sale of interesting bearing securities owned by the State.

I strongly urge the wisdom of conveying this money to a sinking fund, and recommend the enactment of appropriate legislation to establish such fund, and a sinking fund commission, to be composed of certain State officers whose duty it shall be to invest these funds and other funds hereafter obtained for the purpose of extinguishing our State debt.

EDUCATION.

The enactment of the Compulsory School law by the General Assembly two years ago was an important and admirable movement in the direction of establishing our school system upon a wiser and more advanced basis and in the recognition of that principal of economy which holds that each unit of public expenditure should produce a corresponding unit of benefit.

The experience of the past two years, however, has demonstrated that certain modifications of said statute are necessary to render it more efficient and more certain.

I recommend the enactment of such amendments to said statute which will remove the defects and render said law effective.

The report of the State Board of Education is herewith presented. I suggest that you take into consideration the several recommendations therein made.

CODE.

Fifty-six years have elapsed since the enactment of a Code of Laws of this State. The Codes of 1873 and 1893 were mere revisions of the 1852 Code.

The State needs a new Codification of our Laws, which shall include all the general statutory laws of the State and which shall conform in classification of subject matter to that with which the public has become accustomed.

Many subjects in the present Code have been in part repealed, re-enacted, amended and supplemented so often that inextricable confusion now prevails and even the ablest and most careful of the Attorneys of the State hesitate to give an opinion in relation thereto and advise only with a feeling of uncertainty. This condition is repugnant to the sense of right dealing between the citizen and the State since everyone is supposed to know the law. If Attorneys hesitate, how should the lay member of the community be expected to know the law?

This work of codification is of such importance that I would suggest the appointment of a commission of three or five of the ablest Attorneys of the State for its accomplishment. I recommend your careful consideration of this matter.

PUBLICATION OF LAWS.

In the interest of the public I desire to call your attention to the importance of providing proper legislation to secure the early publication of the Statutes.

The speedy issuance of the volume of the laws is most desirable. The public is entitled to and should have the laws as early as practicable—the earlier the better.

Methods of publication of laws in sister states may be reduced to two classes, viz: the publication of laws in the chronological order of approval and the publication of laws according to an authorized classification of subject matter.

Delaware for about a half century has followed the latter course. The larger proportion of the leading and representative states follow the chronological method.

It is manifest, on reflection, that delay in presenting the printers' copy to the publishers is necessarily incident to the classification method, for the reason that the classification cannot be completed until every law shall have been approved or non-approved by the Executive.

It is equally obvious that the chronological method does not necessarily involve such delay. On the contrary, this method would enable the publisher to begin the work of publication immediately upon the approval of a statute and the printing would be measurably coincident with the approval of the laws.

I am of the opinion that speedy issuance of the bound volumes is sacrificed for uniformity of arrangement of laws pursuant to the Code classification. This sacrifice is not justified by the benefits to be derived from said uniformity of arrangement.

Indeed all the advantages of classification can be secured by arranging the chapters of the volume in accordance with the familiar divisions of our Code, in a table at the end of the volume.

I commend that appropriate legislation be passed at this session to effect this purpose.

SPECIAL LAWS.

So far as possible general laws should be enacted to take the place of special laws, often carelessly drawn, which would enable those interested to proceed thereunder, if they desire to avail themselves of the provision of such general law.

A general law, for instance, for the erection or renewal of municipal corporations of the several classes into which the towns and cities may be divided, could be enacted whereby the several towns and cities may be able to secure every reasonable power necessary.

This would relieve the General Assembly of nearly 50 per cent. of the actual output of its biennial session.

At the same time it would relieve the several communities of impositions and burdens which the Legislature has been induced unwittingly to impose upon them through amended charters, re-incorporations and renewals of such town charters.

Numerous other subjects, equally prolific in hardships imposed upon certain interests and unjust or unfair to others, might be specified.

This procedure, suggested by the Constitution, has been demonstrated by the experience of many of the most progressive States to be both expedient and wise.

SUPERINTENDENT OF PUBLIC PRINTING.

The experience of the past four years, under the operation of "An Act regulating the furnishing supplies for the State," justifies the creation of the office of Superintendent of Public Printing and Supplies, who should be appointed by, and hold office during the pleasure of the Governor.

Such officer should possess the necessary skill and technical knowledge of the art which is implied in the name of said office.

The duties of said Superintendent, among others, should include the preparation of all specifications for printing and supplies necessary for the proper conduct of all the departments and officers of the State; the supervision of all printing, reading and correcting the printer's proofs of all State publications and the distribution of same pursuant to the provisions of the Statutes in that behalf.

The State biennially appropriates to the Secretary of State, the Clerks of the Senate and House of Representatives the sum of $550.00 each for the supervision of publication and indexing the Session Laws, and the Journals of the two Houses. All this could be done by said Superintendent, certainly at no increased cost and probably at a less expense to the State than now obtains.

The said Superintendent of Public Printing should work in connection with, make his reports to and be under the control of the Board of State Supplies.

I recommend for your investigation and consideration this subject matter.

PRIMARY ELECTION LAWS.

A primary election law applicable to the entire State is a subject which is receiving serious consideration in many of the States not now under the operation of such a law. The necessity for such a law is generally admitted.

I recommend for your consideration the following suggestions: That the primaries of all parties should be held on the same day, at the same place, and at the same hours, under officers to be appointed, one by each of the two principal parties, and the third by the Governor. That the same safeguards and police regulation thrown about the general election should protect the said primary election.

PUBLIC LAND SURVEY.

Pursuant to the provision of an Act of the General Assembly approved March 29, A. D. 1907, the commissioners therein named have had a complete survey made of the public lands mentioned in said Act and will make their report with a plot to this Session.

The said Act did not go far enough in that it confined the survey to certain specific lands. The State should have a full record of all the public lands within its borders, and surveys should be made and plots filed in the office of the Secretary of State.

Permit me to suggest that you proceed cautiously in enactments providing for the sale or disposition of such public lands. Only a few ocean fronts remain open for improvement. Such lands have acquired extraordinary value. There is a desire to gain possession of these valuable ocean fronts largely in the interest of individuals or Town Corporations. The value of such public lands should be ascertained before legislation should be considered providing for the sale thereof.

DELAWARE AND PENNSYLVANIA BOUNDARY.

Pursuant to Act of General Assembly passed April 25, 1889, Chapter 448, Volume 18, Laws of Delaware, the Commission therein named met a similar Commission appointed by the State of Pennsylvania with authority to resurvey and relocate the Circle of New Castle, which fixes the line between the States of Delaware and Pennsylvania.

The report of this Joint Commission (appointed as aforesaid) was duly recorded in New Castle County, filed in the office of the Secretary of State and presented to the General Assembly in 1897.

The said report was made so late in that session that time was insufficient for the passage of an Act ratifying and confirming the work of said Joint Commission at that session. Such an Act has not been passed by the General Assembly at any subsequent session.

The State of Pennsylvania in 1897 ratified and confirmed the acts of the said Joint Commission by appropriate legislation.

It is imperative in order that the acts of said Joint Commission be effectual and binding that the State of Delaware by Act of General Assembly ratify and confirm the same.

The resurvey and relocation of said line can only be made binding and definitely fixed by appropriate legislation by Congress approving and confirming the report of such Joint Commission.

Until such ratification by this State and such confirmation by Congress shall be had, the jurisdictional limits of this State are uncertain and the work of the Joint Commission ineffectual.

The State might be involved in serious complications by further delay and neglect, and I therefore urge upon you the passage of proper legislation to render effectual the important work of said Joint Commission.

STATE HOUSE REPAIRS.

The much needed repairs to the State House were made under the supervision of the Commission created by the General Assembly in 1907, to whose report I respectfully refer.

The congested condition of the Law Library has not been relieved; on the contrary, has grown more serious.

Relief of some character is imperative to save the State from serious loss and to render the priceless collection of books available for the use of the public.

The need of a new Law Library Building adequate in size and adapted to such purpose is a pressing necessity as the crowded condition in the present room will disclose.

I suggest that a special Committee be appointed to take under advisement the proper method of relief.

There is immediate necessity for additional vault room for the use of the Secretary of State. A reasonable size vault should be provided for the protection of the State records in the office of the State Treasurer. The present safe is insufficient in size to more than care for the current records of his office.

MILITIA.

The gratifying improvement in the Militia referred to in my Message two years ago, continues.

The encampment at Rehoboth of 1908 was the largest and most successful in the history of the organization.

The want of a rifle range has been a serious drawback to effective work in the line of target shooting. Temporary ranges have been established and much improvement is noted in that line of duty.

Under an Act passed at the last session of the Legislature authorizing the United States to purchase and hold lands within this State, I am pleased to inform you that the Federal government has purchased a tract of land situated on the Delaware River about two miles below New Castle, on which a permanent rifle range will be established, and I look for a steady improvement and interest in this branch of the service.

This act of the Federal government is in pursuance to a general policy as expressed in the messages of the Presidents of the United States from Washington to the present incumbent which have recommended that every possible encouragement be given to better the militia of the several States.

The State has been represented by teams at Sea Girt and at the great International match at Camp Perry, Ohio, and made a creditable showing at both places.

The discipline and morale of the organization have shown a decided improvement.

JAMESTOWN TER-CENTENNIAL EXPOSITION.

The representation of Delaware at the Jamestown Ter-Centennial Exposition was in every respect worthy of commendation and praise and my duty would be incomplete without some reference to it.

An old colonial home of this State, unique in pattern and attractive in character, was selected as a design for the State building.

Its construction, decoration and furnishing was generally conceded to have been appropriate and adapted to the occasion and to have displayed excellent taste and judgment on the part of the Commission.

The credit and praise accorded by the people and press of the State to the Commission was merited and justly recognized the time and attention given by these gentlemen.

The historical exhibits, which at great pains had been gathered from various parts of the State, many of which were loaned by private individuals, were not displayed for want of an adequate fire-proof building to protect the priceless collection against loss by fire.

This was a distinct loss and a regrettable incident which seemed unavoidable. Certainly the State agents were not censurable for taking this wise precaution. The Exposition management was not at fault as the arrangements for a building of this character had been made but time was insufficient for its completion.

The special occasion set apart by the Exposition management for Delaware Day was one long to be remembered. The courtesy and cordial hospitality of the Exposition officers, notably of its President, Harry St. G. Tucker, and Admiral Frederick P. Harrington will ever remain fresh in the memory of those of our citizens who participated in this occasion.

The excellent oration of Judge James Pennewill was one worthy of the day and occasion.

The entire association of Delaware with the Exposition was one in which the State and its people may justly take pride.

The appropriation made by the State was inadequate to the proper representation of the State in all its branches at the Exposition. The cost of the State building designed for the Commission was greatly enhanced by the increased cost of labor and material in and around Norfolk; the Commission would have been seriously embarrassed but for the generous contributions by private individuals of time and funds, notably the liberal contributions of General T. Coleman duPont.

NEW JERSEY AND DELAWARE FISHERIES LAWS.

The long drawn out controversy between the States of New Jersey and Delaware over the boundary lines and the rights of the citizens of the two States of fishing on the Delaware River and Bay was definitely terminated in 1905 by a compact or agreement executed by the Commissioners of said two States and the subsequent ratification by the Legislatures of the two States and by Congress of the United States.

One of the Articles of this Compact bound each State to the enactment of statutes controlling the fishery rights of the citizens of said State in the waters of Delaware River and Bay.

A Joint Fisheries Commission, composed of three citizens from each said State, after full hearing of all parties interested, prepared and presented to the Legislature of each of said States in 1907 a bill which each State had covenanted concurrently to adopt. New Jersey passed said bill which will become operative immediately upon the adoption of said Act by Delaware. Unfortunately certain modifications were made in the bill as passed by the General Assembly of Delaware so that it does not conform to the bill prepared by said Joint Commission and which was passed by the State of New Jersey.

The faith and credit of the State is pledged to the enactment of said laws as will appear in Article 4 of said compact, to wit:

"The faith of said contracting parties is hereby pledged to the enactment of said laws so recommended by said Commissioners, or to such concurrent legislation as may seem judicious and proper in the premises to the respective Legislatures thereof."

I urge upon you the enactment of the necessary amendments to Chapter 146, Volume 24, Laws of Delaware, to make said Act conform in every particular with the law agreed upon in order that it may become at once operative.

SHELL FISHERIES.

The revenue of the State arising from the rental of land leased for the propagation of oysters, the tonnage tax on boats connected therewith and the dredgers' tax for the year 1907 was $5,819.23, and for the year 1908 was $5,694.57.

The entire cost of this service to the State is $3,040.00 per annum.

This is a decided gain over the deficit from this branch of public service prior to 1905.

Further increase of revenue from this source may be secured through reasonable enactments which shall provide adequate protection to the rights of the State and the lessee interest in the river beds available for oyster plantations.

Additional protection should be given to the natural oyster rocks.

Every reasonable encouragement should be given to those applying for new leasehold adapted to oyster propagation.

During the years 1907 and 1908 no additional lands for this purpose have been leased while thousands of acres are lying idle and unproductive to the State.

The clam beds could be made an important source of revenue to the State and its citizens by the adoption of laws protecting private interests engaged therein along lines analogous to that relating to oyster culture.

The depletion of the clam beds is sincerely to be deplored.

The want of proper protection to the young lobsters in Delaware waters explains the languishing condition of this industry along our coast. Every lobster caught, regardless of size, is marketed, whereas the statutes of all other States wherein this industry has grown to any proportion, compel the fishermen to return to the waters all lobsters under a certain size.

The experience of the eastern States has demonstrated that the best means of protecting the young lobster is to define the size of lobster pots so that only those of certain size can be retained therein.

Your consideration of adequate measures of protection and encouragement of these industries and sources of revenue is respectfully suggested.

The General Assembly of 1907, considering the present oyster watchboat inadequate for the services demanded of it, authorized the sale of the said boat, the purchase of a new watchboat, "the propelling power of which shall be both wind and motive power," and appropriated $5,000.00 to pay for the same.

No estimate for a boat sufficient in size and adapted to the service could be secured for the funds available, I therefore did not make the change and the old boat has been doing service during the past two years.

The Governor was authorized and directed by Chapter 129, Volume 23, Laws of Delaware, to appoint a competent surveyor or engineer to make a survey and plot of all that certain bottom of the Delaware River within the jurisdiction of the State, which was adapted to the planting and propagation of oysters.

The Legislature failed to make any appropriation for the compensation of such surveyor or engineer.

I was unable to secure the services of a competent surveyor or engineer to do the important work without assurances of payment upon its completion. It being impossible to give such assurances, the survey was not made.

This is a matter of such importance that I suggest that the said law be re-enacted and that an appropriation be made to effect this purpose.

I again desire to solicit your consideration of the advisability of the appointment of a Commission for this State to meet similar Commissions from the States of New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania and Maryland "for the purpose of formulating concurrent and uniform legislation affecting the States named relating to the propagation and protection of fish."

Delaware has taken no steps to co-operate with her neighbors in the fostering of this important industry.

BOARD OF HEALTH.

This agency of the State has for the past two years followed the line of duty mapped out by the Statutes.

Fortunately no serious epidemic of disease has been prevalent during this period.

The powers of the Board have been invoked largely in investigation of local unsanitary conditions, neglect of observance of hygienic rules, indifference to cleanliness of public and private grounds and kindred subjects.

These conditions have in the main been removed and abated.

Marked improvement in the general observance of hygienic conditions throughout the State is noted with pleasure.

Fuller details of the work of this Board may be found in its biennial report.

TUBERCULOSIS.

This State should co-operate in every possible way with that general movement which has for its purpose the eradication of the great white plague.

Nor should this State ignore the efforts of a large body of philanthropic citizens of this and sister States to educate the public in the modern methods of prevention and cure of this disease.

Science has advanced the theory, and has demonstrated its practicability, that this scourge is capable of being entirely eradicated.

It will take persistent and intelligent action on the part of the thinking people to accomplish this hoped for end.

In the meantime it is especially important that the citizens should be taught how to recognize the early stages of the disease and the proper course of treatment thereof. The modern treatment for this stage of the disease has proven eminently successful in effecting permanent cures.

The necessary precautions to be taken by the patient in the more advanced stages for the protection of the unaffected about him is of equal importance and should receive proper attention in the educational campaign.

I suggest that appropriate legislation be adopted to bring about more general knowledge of the cause and methods of treatment of this disease, and to that end, I repeat the recommendations contained in my last biennial message:

It is a proper subject for investigation and intelligent legislative action. I therefore, recommend for your favorable consideration the advisability of creating a commission, with or without pay, as in your judgment may seem best, to inquire into the best means of dealing with this scourge in an economical and efficient manner, and report to the Governor as soon as possible, the results of its investigation."

The earnest discussion and labor of the Red Cross Society of Delaware in arousing interest and educating the public to understand the methods of relief and cure of this scourge are deserving of much commendation and praise.

MEDICAL INSPECTION.

I desire to call your attention to the advisability of enacting a law, or laws, providing for a system of medical inspection of schools throughout the State, providing among other things that every town and city should establish and maintain such a system of medical inspection for the detection of contagious diseases.

CONSERVATION OF NATURAL RESOURCES.

The Conference of the Governors and Commissioners appointed by them, called together by the President of the United States, in May, 1908, to take into consideration some of the most important matters touching the material welfare of the people of this country, marked an epoch in the history of this nation.

The extraordinary interest displayed by the clear-headed thinkers and statesmen, who attended the May conference and addressed the members at the several sessions, has stimulated the publicists, press and people to a deeper study into the wonderful resources of our Nation, the prodigal wasting of our natural wealth and disregard of the rights of posterity.

Perhaps the most immediate result of this conference was the establishment of a permanent Commission on Conservation. I take pleasure in informing you that this State is represented in said Conference in the persons of Judge George Gray, Judge James Pennewill and Hon. Benjamin Nields.

This National Commission has taken up the study of the natural wealth and the proper methods to conserve the resources of our Nation.

In December, 1908, the Commission made its report to the said Conference of Governors and Commissioners showing the results of investigation and study for the past few months.

This report, which has been published, has been commented upon most favorably by the press and the people of the several States.

The continued activity of this agency can only bring unbounded benefit to the people.

This movement is national in character and consequently takes into consideration many subjects in which this State is not directly interested, for instance, the iron, coal and mineral deposits, oil supply and irrigation of arid lands.

This State is, however, deeply concerned in the methods which will increase the resourcefulness and fertility of the soil, the increased profit in culture of our lands, the reformation of portions of our farms, the drainage of our lowlands and the development of our waterways.

These and many kindred subjects will be exhaustively investigated and the results thereof incorporated into reports for public distribution.

I am convinced that the products of the soil can be largely increased through an improved method of cultivation and fertilization. To secure this end, in which we are profoundly interested, the Commission is directing its study and gathering data, upon which may be predicted such a system as shall bring the best results for every character of soil and every section of our country.

Our forests and woodlands have been seriously depleted. At the past rate it will be but a short time before this State will be without any considerable tracts of woodland.

It is evident, if we desire to retain our forests as a source of revenue and to beautify the landscape, we must make some effort to protect the present tracts and encourage the planting of trees on certain portions of our farms.

Uniform State and National laws should be enacted which shall have for their purpose the protection of our woodland and trees and prevent the needless destruction which, for the last century, has characterized the habits of the people of this Nation.

I believe it would be profitable for you to take into consideration the best methods to encourage the planting of trees on our farms, highways, public and private grounds and suggest that you investigate the propriety of making a reasonable appropriation to carry this purpose into effect, which may, perhaps, be best done through the agency of the Experimental Station.

The National Commission of Conservation has directed its attention mainly to the general subjects and its investigations and collections of data to lands, forests, mines, and rivers under federal control.

The National Commission therefore needs to be supplemented by State Commissions which shall make a study, along lines similar to those adopted by the National Commission, of the resources of the State.

I therefore suggest that you consider the advisability of creating a State Commission of Conservation and making a reasonable appropriation to enable it to collect the data needed for a complete study of the means of betterment of the public and individuals of our State and Nation.

The subject of drainage especially appeals to certain portions of our State.

In order to effectually secure the more economic cultivation of the lowlands of this State a more scientific system of drainage must be established.

The State should be in possession of a map on a sufficiently large scale to clearly show the elevation and depressions and natural flow of water.

With such data a scientific and general system of drainage of all sections of the State could be established and thousands of dollars now paid out by individuals, and practically wasted, would be saved to its citizens.

I suggest that the efforts be made to secure a survey and maps of this character

DIVISION OF RECORDS.

The compilation, arranging and indexing of valuable State and County records and papers, covering the colonial and early State periods, has been carried forward with that dispatch consistent with care and economy.

Much work has been prepared for final arrangement and publication.

From the records and papers available, the record of service of all the soldiers from this State who were engaged in the Revolutionary War has been completed and is now ready for publication. This section of the work of this Commission should be printed as speedily as possible so that all original records and papers might be withdrawn from general use in order to preserve them.

It is a lamentable fact that many old records and papers have long since been misplaced or lost.

The work of this Commission has been directed towards supplying as much of the missing data as possible, as well as arranging and indexing the remaining records and papers so that they may be available for public use.

The Adjutant-General's office is constantly receiving requests for certificates of the record of soldiers who enlisted from this State and served in the Revolutionary War, the War of 1812 and subsequent wars, but is unable to furnish them as they are not of record in his office. I therefore suggest that the "Division of Records" be authorized to furnish the Adjutant-General's office with copies of all such records in order that certificates may be given, as is the custom in other States.

I ask your careful consideration of the report of the Commission which accompanies this message and recommend that a sufficient appropriation be made so that this most important work may be completed within the next two years.

MONUMENTS AND TABLETS.

A handsome monument was erected to the memory of Brigadier-General John Dagsworthy in Prince George's Chapel yard at Dagsboro by the Commission created by the Legislature at its last session. The cost of the monument erected was $440.60. The appropriation made for that purpose was $500.00.

The tablet in the corridor of the State House in honor of Commodore Thomas MacDonough was presented to the State by the National Society of the U. S. D. 1812, State of Delaware, and unveiled on November 10, 1908, under the auspices of said Society.

The completion of the Monument authorized to be erected "to commemorate the first settlement of colonists in this State at Fort Oplandt at or near Lewes" has been delayed because, in the judgment of the Commission, the sum appropriated was inadequate to furnish a Monument adapted to or sufficiently imposing to commemorate such an important event.

The citizens of Lewes are seeking to raise by private subscriptions an additional sum so that a larger and more imposing Monument may be erected.

AUTOMOBILES.

The proper regulation of the use of the highways by Automobiles, the rates of speed, the licensing of machines and operators seem to me to be proper subjects for a general uniformity of laws throughout the United States.

Much good has come from the adoption of uniform laws on other subjects by the several States during the past few years.

While the Automobile question is not of such serious moment as many subjects now being urged to be reduced to uniformity, I think the annoyances suffered by the automobile owners at the hands of "strike officers," the uncertainty of their rights and responsibilities, as well as the annoyances suffered by the public from the reckless driving and disregard of public rights by a certain class of automobilists demand redress through a uniform law adopted by the several States.

PUBLIC HIGHWAYS.

The building of good roads is a subject of intense interest to every citizen of this State. How best to further this movement is the query uppermost in the mind of the people. The investigation of methods of road building, the means to raise the funds necessary to promote them and how best to carry out these improvements when properly designed and financed, is attracting the attention of the thinking and progressive citizens of every State.

No one agency would contribute more to the advancement of the comfort and material welfare of the farming class than the construction of good roads throughout the State.

It is obvious that the construction throughout this State of the hundreds of miles of good roads projected or demanded by all sections cannot be at once effected, nor soon built, if we rely upon the excellent, but expensive, macadam highways now generally adopted as a standard in our sister States.

The limited funds for road building are soon exhausted by construction of such roads. We must look for a method adapted to our limited means and avoid burdening the public with heavy loans.

The modern method of constructing roads out of native soils, under the various processes, in connection with oil, tar and kindred substances, is attracting great attention and it may be that the material can be found in each county, in fact in each district, out of which we can construct in connection with oil, tar, etc., suitable and inexpensive roads. In fact, from information I have received, I am convinced this material exists in each of our counties.

The construction of gravel roads has been demonstrated as practicable and profitable when the gravel beds are found within a reasonable distance from the roads proposed to be improved. Such roads are enduring and satisfactory when properly constructed as is attested by experience in certain sections of New Jersey.

In Sussex County an excellent beginning has been made along these lines and its extension to all parts of the county is but a question of time.

The drainage of farm lands in certain parts of the State in connection with the construction of good roads would seem practicable and worthy of consideration.

STATE BOARD OF AGRICULTURE.

The many local institutes, which have been held under the auspices of this Board, have elicited unusual interest.

The ready response on the part of the farmers to the various improved methods of agriculture, care and management of live stock, and kindred subjects, which have been discussed at the said several institutes, has been most gratifying and the good results therefrom are evidenced by the very greatly increased product of the farms of the State.

One of the duties of this Board is the suppression of contagious diseases among the lower animals.

Anthrax has been nearly exterminated in the small affected territory. Careful and cautious inspection in the early Spring should not be abated until the disease is exterminated beyond a doubt. The usual appropriation for the purpose should be renewed.

In November of last year this State was threatened with Apthous fever, commonly called foot and mouth disease, among domestic animals.

The outbreak having grown so serious and to such proportions in certain sections of the States of Pennsylvania and New York, the Federal government issued proclamations of quarantine prohibiting interstate traffic in animals capable of contracting such disease and said States issued proclamations restricting the intrastate traffic in such animals thus affected.

The proximity of the affected territory in Pennsylvania to the northern border of this State, and the serious character of the disease, rendered executive action imperative. I therefore issued a proclamation laying an embargo upon the conveyance of cattle, sheep or hogs from the States of Pennsylvania and New York into the State of Delaware.

Guards were placed about the State border to prevent the violation of the proclamation.

The enforcement of this proclamation was then turned over to the State Board of Agriculture which proceeded by police regulations to prevent the contagion invading this State.

Through the joint action of the said States and the Federal authorities in strictly enforcing the police regulations established to carry the quarantine into effect, the interstate and intrastate traffic in such animals ceased and the territory affected has been confined to a limited section.

From the information which has come to the Executive respecting this disease, it would have been most disastrous from a financial standpoint had it become prevalent in this State.

My experience in the recent epidemic of the Aphthous fever has demonstrated the necessity that the Governor and the State Board of Agriculture be given increased and well defined powers to enable them to prevent the introduction into our State of cattle, horses, sheep, swine and materials affected with contagious and other diseases.

This is most important for the protection of our farming interests as well as the health of our people.

A sufficient appropriation should be made and placed at the disposal of the Governor to meet such emergencies.

EXPERIMENTAL STATION.

Under the direction of an Act passed at the last session of the General Assembly, a farm near Newark was purchased for the use of an Experimental Station as an adjunct to Delaware College. The farm was equipped and has been managed pursuant to Federal authority and operated by funds appropriated by the national government.

To render the results of the experiments made by this Station available to the farmers of the entire State, meetings should be held at various points in each County at which the practical advantages of the studies and experiments made could be shown.

It is a matter of common observation that, in the neighborhood of the Experimental Station, the means and methods therein pursued have produced results most encouraging and satisfactory and have inspired a healthy competition among the progressive farmers.

As time advances this influence will widen and broaden until it will eventually reach every section of the State. This process is too slow to secure the best results of the greatest number. Since the farmers cannot be brought to the Experimental Station, the endeavor should be made to take its influences and results to the farmers.

To secure this end, I suggest that a reasonable appropriation be made for demonstration purposes, to be used under the direction of those in control of the Experimental Station.

MARVIN ABDUCTION.

In March, 1907, the public was shocked by the report of an alleged abduction of Horace Marvin, a three year old child, who a few weeks previously had been brought into this State.

The General Assembly, responding to public sentiment, passed an Act which "authorized the Governor to engage special detectives and employ such other means as he may deem best to investigate the supposed abduction of Horace Marvin and to arrest and punish the perpetrators of the crime, if any there be," and appropriated the sum of $2,000.00 for that purpose.

Detectives were at once employed. At sundry times the child was located by reports received in nearly every eastern and several western States and in two foreign countries. Every rumored location of the child was run down without result.

A part of the detective force remained about the Marvin farm, believing the child had not been lured away. After weeks of search, the body of the child was found in a pool of water in an obscure part of said farm.

STATE INSTITUTIONS AND WARDS.

The number of inmates in our State Institutions and under the care of the State in outside institutions increases with our growing population.

Sufficient appropriation should be made to properly care for these unfortunate dependents upon the public.

REPORTS.

The reports of the several Departments of State Government which contain a full detailed statement of the operation of said Departments for the past two years will be presented to you with this message.

PARDONS, REPRIEVES AND REMISSIONS.

In compliance with the constitutional mandate, an account of all remissions of fines and forfeitures, reprieves, commutation of sentences and pardons granted by me during the past two years, with my reasons therefor, is herewith transmitted for your information.

This day the Governor, upon recommendation of the Board of Pardons granted a full Pardon unto George M. Bristow, alias George D. Bristow, as follows:

Bristow, alias George D. Bristow should forfeit and pay a fine of Two Thousand dollars, be imprisoned one year, commencing February 7, 1906, and ending February 6, 1907, pay the costs of the prosecution; in default of the above order of the Court, to be imprisoned one year, commencing at the expiration of the above term.

And Whereas, a Majority of the Board of Pardons after a full hearing, have recommended in writing, the granting of a pardon of and remission of the fine and costs imposed upon said George M. Bristow, alias George D. Bristow.

Now, therefore, I, Preston Lea, Governor of the State of Delaware, by virtue of the authority in me vested by the Constitution of the said State, in that behalf, have granted and by these presents do grant a pardon and remission of the fine and costs imposed upon the said George M. Bristow, alias George D. Bristow to and for which the said George M. Bristow, alias George D. Bristow was sentenced by the judgment of said Court as aforesaid.

By the Governor:

PRESTON LEA.

JOS. L. CAHALL,

Secretary of State.

This day the Governor upon the recommendation of the Board of Pardons granted a pardon unto Joseph Gest, convicted at the November Term, A. D. 1904, of the Court of General Sessions of the State of Delaware, in and for New Castle County, of the crime of using a female child for immoral purposes, and sentenced to be imprisoned seven years, commencing November 23, 1904, and ending November 22, 1911, for the following reasons, viz:

That said Joseph Gest is suffering from Pulmonary Tuberculosis in advanced stage and his further confinement seriously jeopardizes his life and threatens the inmates of the New Castle County Workhouse.

This day the Governor upon the recommendation of the Board of Pardons, after a full hearing granted a pardon unto Nehemiah Harmon, convicted at the April Term, A. D. 1902, of the Court of Oyer and Terminer of the State of Delaware, in and for Sussex County of the crime of murder in the first degree, and sentenced to be detained in custody until Friday the 18th day of July, 1902, and on that day between the hours of 10 o'clock in the forenoon and 4 o'clock in the afternoon to be taken to some convenient place of execution in the prison enclosure and there be hanged by the neck until dead.

The said sentence on the 6th day of June A. D. 1902, upon the recommendation of the Board of Pardons, having been commuted to Life Imprisonment by the then Governor, for the following reasons, viz:

That upon the examination of a copy of all the evidence produced at the trial of said Nehemiah Harmon and the hearing of witnesses produced before this Board testifying to facts not developed at said trial, the Board of Pardons is convinced that the ends of justice have been met by the term of imprisonment already served by said Nehemiah Harmon.

THE STATE OF DELAWARE, ss.

vs.

FRANK ALLEN.

New Castle County.

May Term, 1902, Nos. 23 and 24,
Indictment breaking dwelling house with intent to commit larceny.

At the May Term of the General Sessions of the State of Delaware, in and for New Castle County, one Frank Allen was indicted, arraigned and tried for the crime of breaking dwelling house with intent to commit larceny and upon such trial was found guilty, whereupon it was adjudged by the Court that the said Frank Allen should pay a fine of five hundred dollars, on Saturday the 24th day of May, A. D. 1902 between the hours of 10 a. m. and 2 p. m., stand one hour in the pillory, be whipped with 20 lashes, be imprisoned ten years commencing with May 21, 1902, and ending May 20, 1912, and pay the costs of prosecution: And at the same term of said Court upon the second offense wherein he was tried and found guilty it was adjudged by the said Court that the said Frank Allen should pay a fine of five hundred dollars, on Saturday the 24th day of May, 1902, between the hours of 10 a. m. and 2 p. m., stand one hour in the

And whereas, a majority of the Board of Pardons after a full hearing, have recommended in writing that the said Frank Allen be granted a pardon for the reason that said applicant is suffering from Pulmonary Tuberculosis in an advanced stage and his further confinement seriously jeopardizes his life and threatens the lives of the inmates of the New Castle County Workhouse.

Now, therefore, I, Preston Lea, Governor of the State of Delaware, by virtue of the authority in me vested by the Constitution of the said State, in that behalf, have granted and by these presents do grant unto the said Frank Allen a pardon of the residue of the sentences to and for which the said Frank Allen was sentenced by the judgment of said Court as afore-said.

(Seal.) In testimony whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the Great Seal of the said State to be affixed at Dover, this seventh day of August in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and eight, and of the Independence of the United States the one hundred and thirty-third.

By the Governor:

JOS. L. CAHALL,

Secretary of State.

This day, the Governor, upon the recommendation of the Board of Pardons, granted a full and unconditional Pardon and Restoration to Citizenship, (which loss of citizenship resulted from the sentence of the Court) unto Samuel Bush convicted at the May term A. D. 1876 of the Court of General Sessions of the State of Delaware in and for New Castle County of the crime of larceny and sentenced to pay as restitution money the sum of one hundred dollars, pay costs of prosecution and on Saturday May 20, A. D. 1876 between 10 o'clock a. m. and 5 o'clock p. m. be whipped with twenty lashes and be imprisoned for one year commencing May 20, 1876, and ending May 19, 1877, for the following reasons, viz:

That said Samuel Bush having lived an upright and exemplary life for the past thirty years, has established a good character in the community where he lives.

This day the Governor upon the recommendation for the Board of Pardons granted a full and unconditional pardon unto Charles F. Hackendorn, convicted at the November term, A. D. 1907, of the Court of General Sessions of the State of Delaware, in and for New Castle County of the crime of larceny, and sentenced to pay as restitution money the sum of two hundred dollars, be imprisoned two years commencing November 12, 1907, and ending November 11, 1909, and pay the costs of prosecution, for the following reasons, viz:

That after discovered evidence produced before the Board of Pardons disclosed a state of mind at the time of driving away the cows by said Hackendorn which negatives the idea that the felonious intent to steal could have been formed in the mind of said Hackendorn.

I. T. PARKER,

President of the Senate.

Mr. Megear, Clerk of the House, being admitted, returned to the Senate the following concurrent resolution concurred in:

Be it Resolved by the Senate, the House concurring therein, That a committee of two on the part of the Senate and three on the part of the House be appointed, with power to act, to make arrangements for the inauguration ceremonies of Hon. Simeon S. Pennewill, Governor-elect.

Mr. Speaker has appointed on the part of the House the following committee: Messrs. Connelly, Bradford, Armstrong.

State Treasurer, being admitted, submitted the following report:

To the Senate and House of Representatives of the State of Delaware, in General Assembly met:

I desire to submit to your Honorable Body a special report upon a subject which would seem to require your immediate attention. It relates to the providing for the payment of the amounts due certain registration officers that were not paid because the appropriation therefor was not sufficient.

The law provides that the Levy Court of each County at its November Session shall ascertain the amount of compensation due the several registration officers in their respective counties, and that the President of said Levy Court shall make proper certificate of the same to the State Treasurer, "Who shall thereupon pay to the persons entitled the sums severally due them out of any money appropriated for that purpose." The appropriation made for this purpose by the Legislature at its last session was $13,000.00, the same as had been made from year to year for a number of years, and which had always before been found to be sufficient.

I received proper certificates from New Castle and Sussex Counties in good time. I found that the amounts certified as due the registration officers for these two counties, were as follows.

City of Wilmington.....	$8,235.00
Rural New Castle	2,495.00
Sussex County	1,585.00

Total for two counties.....$12,315.00

I made out checks for the several amounts due the registration officers of these two counties and sent them out under date of December 1, 1908.

I did not receive the completed list from Kent County till the evening of Tuesday, December 1st, after I had sent out the checks to New Castle and Sussex Counties. I then discovered that, owing to a very material increase in the number of election districts, and the consequent increase in the number of registration officers, especially in the City of Wilmington, so large a part of the appropriation had been already used to pay the registration officers in New Castle and Sussex Counties, that there remained but $685 out of which to pay $1,655, the amount certified to me as due the registration officers of Kent County, or $970 less than the necessary amount.

At once upon discovering this condition, I wrote to the Attorney-General, laying the facts before him, and asking him to advise me what I should do, I was advised by him that I should pay the registration officers of Kent County, by beginning with the First Election District in Kent County, and following in consecutive order until I should exhaust the remainder of the appropriation, but that I was not justified in paying beyond the amount of the appropriation.

Following the suggestion of the Attorney General, I began with the registration officers of the First Election District of the First Representative District, and issued checks to the registration officers in consecutive order till I had in part paid the registration officers of the First Election District of the Fifth Representative District, when I found the balance of the appropriation exhausted. There still remains unpaid the sum of $970, as stated above.

Those who are unpaid and who are entitled to compensation as per certificate of the President of the Levy Court of Kent County, and the amounts to which they are severally entitled, are as follows:

Hon. Joseph L. Cahall, being admitted, presented the report of the State Treasurer and Auditor of Accounts, which were ordered spread on the journal as follows:

STATE TREASURER'S REPORT.

To the Senate and House of Representatives of the State of Delaware, in General Assembly met:

I herewith present to your Honorable Body for your information the following statement showing receipts and disbursements from January 14, 1908, to January 4, 1909, inclusive, and the condition of the Treasury at the close of business on the last mentioned date.

Pursuant to Constitutional provision, my report for the fiscal year ending with January 13, 1908, has already been published, and copies are before you, to which attention is called.

The balances in the Treasury on January 14, 1908, were, to the credit of the

General Fund	$76,014.63
School Fund	21,480.72
Sinking Fund	20,662.06
	<hr/> $118,157.41

The balances in the Treasury on this date are, to the credit of the

General Fund	$136,449.36
School Fund	5,181.18
Sinking Fund	5,412.19
	$147,042.73

It will be observed that the balance in the Treasury belonging to the General Fund is larger by more than $60,000 than was the balance at the close of the fiscal year one year ago. The balance then appearing was larger than had appeared at the corresponding period for a number of years. It should be borne in mind, however, that the balance now standing to the credit of the General Fund includes the sum of $62,437.88, which was the net sum received from the United States Government in settlement of the claim of the State growing out of expenditures made during the War of 1812, and which was placed in the General Fund pending such action as may be taken for the proper disposition of this amount.

In this connection I would call your attention to the balances received by me from my predecessor four years ago.

There was at that time to the credit of the

General Fund	$32,525.08
Sinking Fund	12,002.81
School Fund	22,511.25
	$67,039.14

It will be noted that the balance now to the credit of the General Fund exceeds the balance received by me four years ago by more than $100,000. This balance would have been much larger had there not been a heavy falling off in the receipts from Franchise Taxes.

An examination of this statement will show the receipts from Franchise Taxes for the year just closed to be $60,731.61, or $49,087.83 less than for the preceding year. The Corporation Fees received from the Secretary of State for the year just closed was $42,103.50; less by $884.91 than the receipts from the same source for the preceding year. This statement of the receipts from these sources and especially the continued falling off of receipts from the Corporation Fees received by the Secretary of State would seem to indicate that the advocates of the law passed by the last session of Legislature were mistaken in advocating a measure so greatly reducing the amounts to be received from corporations, nor should it be forgotten that under the provisions of this law there will be a still greater reduction in the Franchise Tax rate, and the total of Franchise Taxes collected during the coming year will probably not exceed one-half the sum of the receipts for the year just closed. It should not be forgotten, however, that we have been passing through a term of business depression which may have in part contributed to the result referred to above.

In Section 43 Chapter 653, Volume 19, Laws of Delaware, is found a provision for purchasing State Bonds for the Sinking Fund. During the month of August last $20,000 of State Bonds of the issue of the Loan of 1907 were offered to me. Acting upon advice from the Attorney-General, after consultation with the Governor, these bonds were bought at 103 and interest, a price but slightly in advance of price they were sold at when issued, making a total cost of $20,744.44. These bonds are now held by the sinking fund. By this purchase about $19,000 in interest has been saved to the State.

I would note in passing that on January 1, 1906, as elsewhere reported, $35,000 of State Bonds were redeemed with moneys already in the Treasury. It thus appears that during my term of office there have been purchased $55,000 of State Bonds with moneys already in the Treasury, in addition to meeting all other obligations of the State.

I would again call attention to a balance of $900 still due the School Fund from Sussex County on an old debt which I have endeavored to collect but without success, and now call attention to the matter for such action as you may deem wise.

There is now in the School Fund the sum of $5,000 belonging to the permanent investment fund, which is uninvested, and therefore bringing no returns to the School Fund for current expenses. There should be provision made for the proper investment of this sum in order that a proper return may be realized.

The sum of $2,500 appropriated for 1908 for the purpose of encouraging immigration has not been drawn on. The State Board of Agriculture, after a conference with the Governor, deemed it unwise to expend any portion of it.

For further particulars I would refer you to the following pages, which deal in detail with receipts and expenditures.

Very respectfully,

THOMAS N. RAWLINS,

STATE AUDITOR'S REPORT.

To the General Assembly of the State of Delaware.

Gentlemen:—In compliance with the Law regulating the duties of this Department, I have the honor to submit the Biennial Report.

A copy of the Report for 1907 has been placed at each member's desk, and the Report for 1908, complete in so far as is possible to make it, has been placed in the printer's hands, which by contract made with the State Board of Supplies, will be ready for distribution early in April.

In presenting this Report, I am well aware of the fact that it is impossible for this Department to supply to your Honorable Body the full, detailed information contemplated. Under the existing Statutes, the Auditor may knock at the door of the different Departments of the State, but, should the officer decline either to admit or supply the information asked for, there is no provision made for obtaining same.

Owing to the fact that a clause in the General Appropriation Act precluded the use of any part of the contingent fund for clerical help, nearly one-third of the entire appropriation made for the two years still remains in the Treasury of the State.

Respectfully submitted,

THOMAS C. ROE.

Office of Auditor of Accounts,

Dover, Delaware, January 4, 1909.

On motion of Mr. Sparks the following invitation was read and accepted, and further on his motion a committee of two was appointed to make arrangements to visit the institution:

Delaware State Hospital at Farnhurst.

Farnhurst, Del., January 7, 1909.

Hon. George W. Sparks, President of the Senate,
Dover Delaware.

Dear Sir:—I have been requested by our Board of Trustees to notify you that the members of the Legislature be invited to visit this institution at any time that may suit their convenience.

Very respectfully yours,

WM. H. HANCKER.

Mr. President of the Senate appointed Messrs. Sparks and Conner in pursuance of the above motion.

On motion of Mr. Sparks the following invitation was read:

The Peninsula Horticultural Society.

Dover, Delaware, January 11, 1909.

Hon. George W. Sparks,

Speaker of the Senate.

Dear Sir:—The General Assembly is invited to attend the thirty-second annual meeting of the Peninsula Horticultural Society in Turn Hall, Wilmington, January 12, 13 and 14. We would be glad to have the Assembly attend all the sessions, but if you are unable to do so, I am enclosing a program that you may select the session which you may think the most interesting.

Respectfully,

WESLEY WEBB, Secretary.

On motion of Mr. Monaghan Messrs. Conner and Anderson were appointed a committee to arrange with the House to accept above invitation.

The following invitation was received from Dr. George A. Harter, President of Delaware College, and on motion of Mr. Sparks, Dr. George W. Marshall was given permission of the floor:

Delaware College.

Newark, Del., January 8, 1909.

To the President of the Senate of Delaware,

Dover Delaware.

Dear Sir:—On behalf of the Faculty and Experiment

Station Staff of Delaware College, I do respectfully invite the members of the Senate of Delaware now in legislative session together with all officers and employees to make a visit to the farm lately purchased for the use of the Experiment Station and to the College in all its departments at such time as may be most convenient and agreeable to their honorable body.

A similar invitation has been extended to the House of Representatives of Delaware.

I am yours respectfully,

GEORGE A. HARTER, President.

On motion of Mr. Corbit Mr. President was requested to appoint a committee of two to arrange for above invitation, which was accepted.

Mr. President appointed Messrs. Conner and Anderson in pursuance of the above motion.

Mr. Conner moved that the State Board of Supplies be authorized to print the message of the Governor and reports presented by him in such quantities as they may deem required.

Which motion prevailed.

Mr. Sparks moved that it is the sense of the Senate that on all bills presented to the House as per recommendations of the State Revenue and Taxation Commission that said bills be referred to a Committee of the Whole of the two Houses.

Which motion prevailed.

Secretary was ordered to notify the House.

The hour of 11 o'clock, A. M., having arrived, the Senate in pursuance to a previously adopted resolution repairs to the Hall of the House of Representatives to canvass the vote for Governor and Lieutenant-Governor.

Joint session was organized.

By motion of Mr. Monaghan Mr. President pro tem. was made presiding officer.

Roll called. Members present—Messrs. Anderson, Barnard, Conner, Corbit, Drexler, Dutton, Flinn, Hart, Iliffe, Miller, Monaghan, Morrison, Reed, Rowland, Sheldrake, Mr. President pro tem.

Mr. President pro tem. appointed Messrs. Monaghan and Rawlins as tellers.

Mr. Conner moved that the return of the election for Governor and Lieutenant-Governor certified to be read.

SECOND BIENNIAL REPORT OF THE NEW CASTLE

FOR THE YEARS 1907 AND 1908.

Office of New Castle County State Highway Commissioner.
Wilmington, Del., January 1, 1909.

To His Excellency, Preston Lea, Governor, and the General Assembly of the State of Delaware.

I have the honor to submit the second biennial report of the New Castle County State Highway Commissioner for the calendar years 1907 and 1908, containing a full statement of all the moneys spent and work done under my direction and supervision.

Respectfully submitted,

FRANCIS A. PRICE,

New Castle County State Highway Commissioner.

REPORT.

At the time of writing my first biennial report for the years 1905 and 1906, there had been built in this County, 16.7 miles of macadam road and 2.9 miles of gravel road, all of which was built from the State appropriations together with the regular good roads appropriations of New Castle County.

At the last session of the General Assembly, the Levy Court of New Castle County was authorized to issue bonds to procure money for road building purposes to the extent of $300,000.00.

Out of the bond issue fund, the State appropriations and the regular good roads appropriations, there have been built during the two years just past, 52.69 miles of macadam road, which, together with that previously built, makes a total of 72.29 miles of improved roads in this County, built since the passage of the good roads Act, of April 14, 1903.

Following is a detailed statement of the roads built during the years 1907 and 1908.

The four roads named below were constructed and accepted by the county, subject to one year's maintenance by the contractor, as will be seen by reference to the first biennial report. They have all been finally accepted during the past two years and the amounts retained for one year, according to law, and following the names of the roads have been paid to the contractor:

Total amount expended on improved roads in New Castle County during the year 1907 and 1908:

State of Delaware..... $22,000.00
New Castle County from good roads appropriation.. 79,518.78
New Castle County from bond issue fund..... 289,067.92

Grand Total$390,586.70

We have now in this county 72.29 miles of improved roads for which about $537,000.00 has been spent. That money will have been wasted if the roads are not in the future properly taken care of. It is now the duty of the county officials to provide funds for a regular systematic method of keeping the roads in good repair. Automobiles or motor driven vehicles are the greatest destroyers of such roads as we are now building in this county. They usually travel at a high rate of speed which causes the binding material on the surface of the road to rise in clouds of dust and drift away from the road, leaving the surface rough and finally causing the top course of stone to break up and ravel out.

The surface of the road can be protected by frequent applications of water, oil, or some preparation for the laying of the dust but this method will require constant attention and entail the expenditure of more money than we can afford.

I believe that in building our new roads, we should make the wearing surfaces of a proper mixture of coal tar or some asphaltic bearing material, with the stone, gravel or soil of which the road is made. We would then have a surface that would be dustless and the material of which would not be carried away by every passing automobile. The automobile is with us to stay and the number of them in use will probably get greater each year. It will therefore be necessary to provide a road, if possible, that it will not injure as much as it does our present roads.

The question of providing such a road is one that is occupying the attention of road builders throughout the civilized world.

In April, 1908, Messrs. C. C. Hopkins and Wm. A. Scott, Levy Court Commissioners of this county, with the Highway Commissioner, went to Kansas City, Missouri, where we saw a pavement made by mixing the natural soil of the road with a binding material of an asphalt bearing oil, and rolled hard and compact with a special road roller known as the tamping roller. Some of the pavement has been in use several years and still showed a good surface. From Kansas City, I went to Southern California and in Los Angeles and vicinity, saw many miles of street paved in this manner. The surface is smooth, somewhat resembling an asphalt pavement but is softer or easier on horses feet and is practically dustless. Some of the streets there had been in use five years and were in good condition. Pavements of this kind have been built in the east during the year just past, some in New York State and some in New Jersey. Reports as to their quality vary; they are not very far from us and can easily be seen and judged. This pavement, to be a success, must be constructed in the proper manner, particular attention being paid to the quality and quantity of oil used, according to the natural soil. It should cost less than a macadam pavement.

We have not yet found a good gravel in this county for road building. The road that was built and classed as a gravel road, has been surfaced with broken stone during the past year. Previous to 1908, all the macadam roads were built of Brandywine granite, trap rock, or some other hard stone; during this year, however, we have built several miles of limestone and they are well approved of by those who use them. Although more agreeable for driving purposes, limestone, being a softer stone, will wear away faster than the other stone that has been used and will require more frequent repairs.

We have built several bridges on our new roads of reinforced concrete, throughout, obviating the necessity of constantly repairing the bridge floors.

In the construction of our roads, we should as much as possible make continuous roads and not a mile here and a mile there, beginning and ending at a dirt road. The leading or through roads should be built first and the cross-roads can come to them later.

I would repeat the recommendation, that a portion of the State Road should be built every year until it reaches from the northerly to the southerly limits of the county.

I desire to express my appreciation of the courtesy and co-operation of the members of the New Castle County Levy Court and to thank the engineers and supervisors who have conscientiously performed their duties. Accompanying this report is a map showing the location and length of improved roads built in this county.

Mr. Monaghan presented the following resolution:

Dover, Delaware, January 19, 1909.

Whereas, We, the members of the Senate, realize that the term of office of our presiding officer, Lieutenant-Governor I. Thomas Parker, will terminate on January 19, 1909, therefore be it

Resolved, That we tender to the Hon. I. T. Parker our very kindest regards and appreciation for the able and impartial manner with which he has conducted the sessions of the Senate, and for the generous and courteous consideration always shown the members. We desire further to convey to the Lieutenant-Governor our very kindest wishes for his future happiness and success in life, and trust the experiences of his term of office, and his association with the members of the Senate may always be looked upon by him with feelings of pleasure and satisfaction. We are confident that as years roll on the memory of our association with him will be a pleasant recollection for us all. Be it further

Resolved, That these resolutions be spread upon the journal of the Senate, and a copy engrossed by the Clerk and forwarded to the Hon. I. T. Parker,

Which, on his motion, was adopted.

Retiring Lieutenant-Governor Parker then gave the following response:

Members of the State Senate of Delaware:—

To-day closes four years of most pleasant associations with this Honorable Body.

As I review the history of this space of time, there comes to my heart a degree of sorrow and regret.

Sorrow, by reason of the fact that death has twice entered this Chamber, and called from earth's activities two honored and respected members, namely, Senators Reed and Jefferson.

Affliction has overtaken another, the Hon. Thomas C. Moore, who is now unable to be with us and participate in the deliberations of this body. Let us hope that he will soon be restored to his usual health and able to resume his place in this Chamber.

The regret is, that our association will in a measure cease? But I assure you that the friendships formed here will be as lasting as memory, and the uniform kindness and consideration I have received from every member of this body, will be among the most pleasant recollections of my life.

It will always be a real pleasure for me to recall the delightful times that we have had together.

As I lay down the duties and responsibilities of the office, I feel very much gratified that my successor is a man of such splendid qualities, and I covet for him the same kind consideration you have shown me during my term. I feel sure that he will receive it from such noble men as compose this body.

You are met together for another session of the General Assembly. There will no doubt be much important legislation presented for your consideration and you will have many questions brought before you for your action.

I feel sure you will select only that which is good to enact into laws. The bad, if any, will not receive the favorable consideration of this body. My confident belief is, whatever laws are enacted, will be according to your best judgment, such as are for the best interest of the people of this commonwealth.

I want to say in closing, that I appreciate more than I can express to you the sentiment contained in the resolution adopted by you and all of which is reciprocated by me, and if I have failed at any time to treat every member in an impartial manner it was unintentional.

Again thanking you out of a full heart for all courtesy shown me I wish each and every one of you the largest measure of success in your life's work.

On motion of Mr. Sparks a committee of two was ordered to escort the Lieutenant-Governor to the chair.

Mr. President appointed Mr. Sparks and Mr. Monaghan.

SIMEON S. PENNEWILL.

Sworn and subscribed to before me this nineteenth day of January, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and nine (1909).

JAMES PENNEWILL.

Governor Pennewill then delivered his inaugural address :

Fellow Citizens:—

The State of Delaware is small in area and in population as compared with our sister States, and this should enable us to reach a high degree of perfection in our governmental affairs. With our fertile soil and the energy, character, and intelligence of our citizenship we should be second to none in the Union in the enjoyment of prosperity and in the experience of an ideal Republican form of Government. Our Constitution has been liberal in the extension of the right of franchise, requiring an educational test only in those cases where the elector has arrived at the age of twenty-one years since the year of 1900, and has also provided as far as possible for the protection and purity of the ballot. With such a foundation to build upon, and with years of experience to guide us, an intelligent effort to administer the affairs of this State faithfully should bring success.

Our Laws should be as plain as possible so that every intelligent citizen can easily understand them, and the processes, both in our Civil and Criminal Courts, should be as free from technicalities as may be, in order that speedy justice be realized by all, bearing in mind always the absolute necessity of a fair hearing and proper deliberation.

The Judges of this State have always had the respect and admiration of our citizens, and none more so than those whose terms will soon expire. Every good citizen wants to see the same high standard maintained, and we all appreciate that it can only be done by the appointment of men who are honest and fearless, fair-minded and unbiased, and men possessed of good judgment as well as real legal ability.

There are many industries in our midst which make many of our citizens prosperous and happy, but chief among these is that of agriculture, and anything done to encourage it is commendable. Such encouragement may be both direct and indirect as well as general and special. One of the greatest helps to the farmer in recent years has been the education he has received from different sources. Through this he is just beginning to realize the great wealth that Delawaare soil contains. These sources of education have been made possible largely by the creation of the State Board of Agriculture, by the experimental farms, and the different societies of agriculture created and maintained by the farmers themselves.

The farmer can only be successful, however, by marketing his produce, and to do this successfully a good road is of the greatest necessity. Indeed every one who travels at all, is interested in having a network of good roads in this State connecting every village, town and city. Such roads should be carefully built, of a permanent character, and with a well-defined system of drainage. Experience has taught us that money spent in temporary repairs on our public roads is not well spent, and while it is of the greatest importance to safeguard our revenue, and to place no burden upon future generations that does not carry with it a corresponding benefit, I am inclined to believe that such permanent improvement in our public roads would immediately increase the value of our farms to an amount almost equal to the cost of such improvement; and if that be true neither the present nor future generations should complain of the increased burden. Proper legislation along this line is both a direct and a general benefit to almost all of our citizens and is particularly helpful to the farmers.

Another suggested improvement that is interesting to all of us in general, and to many farmers in particular, is the establishment of a proper system of drainage for the low lands and swamps in the lower part of our State. The proper draining of the new roads would of itself accomplish this in part, and it may be questionable whether at this time we could afford anything more, but let us hope that the time is not far distant when we may either feel able to do something in this direction ourselves, or induce the National Government to so improve our rivers and creeks that little would be needed to be done by us to solve this important question.

The State ought to be liberal in its appropriations for these things which mean so much to its citizens, but the important question is, how liberal can it be, considering its present and prospective financial condition? We certainly cannot hope to do as much as we would like immediately, and therefore we should do those things first which would mean the greatest benefit to the greatest number.

The matter of State Revenue has always been, and ever will be a serious problem. The revenue received through the General Incorporation Act has done much for the past few years to make this problem less serious. We cannot afford, however, to become extravagant because of the revenue received from this source. Careful legislators will recognize that the large sums we are now receiving annually from corporations may not be permanent. A majority of our corporations are formed and operated by non-residents, and if many other States should enact a law similar to ours, it would mean a great reduction in the revenue received by us. The American people have always zealously guarded the expenditures of the public revenue whether it be municipal, county, State or national; and political campaigns are often fought and decided upon the issue whether public officials have properly used the money belonging to the people. The thing that is of the first importance in this connection is to see that it is honestly expended and not wasted. Upon that point all agree, but beyond that the best and wisest men differ, some complaining because the taxes are already too burdensome while others contend that certain things should be done regardless of the tax it would be necessary to impose. Many also insist that the taxes now imposed for the raising of public revenue, weigh too heavily upon certain classes of property, and that certain other classes, now exempt, should bear at least a part of the public burden.

While great care should be taken by those having the power to appropriate State funds, there are certain things necessary to be done, such as the maintenance of our public schools, colleges and hospitals for the unfortunate wards, and to maintain them properly liberal appropriations must be made.

The subject of education is of the greatest importance to our State as it is to all States, for if the education of our children and young people is neglected we cannot expect much of the future. Our Legislature has from time to time enacted laws and made liberal appropriations for the cause of education, and we are constantly trying, and rightfully, to improve the laws and increase the appropriations so that the greatest possible good can be realized. The graded schools in our cities and towns are as a rule far superior to those in the country districts, and if some way could be found to improve the latter it would make the farm more attractive to our young people and improve education in general. Care should be taken always to provide comfortable and sanitary school rooms as well as competent and well paid teachers.

Of equal importance with the education of the children is the preservation of the public health. Medical science has convinced us that the ravages of tuberculosis can be checked by certain prescribed means, and we should not fail to perform our duty in this regard.

Many laws have been enacted to protect our game, but at the present time they are wholly inadequate, and in their practical operation discriminate unfairly against our own people. If properly protected game should be plentiful in this State for many years to come; otherwise its extermination in the near future is certain.

The City of Wilmington has for many years been the subject of much State legislation, and the Legislature ought to be liberal as it usually is, in enacting such laws as will best promote the growth and prosperity of that city in which all of our citizens are so greatly interested.

Under the administration just closed the militia has been brought to a high degree of efficiency and is now a subject of pride to our State. Great care must be taken to maintain its present high standard and to improve it if possible.

A bill has been recently introduced in Congress, the object of which is to make a national waterway out of the Delaware and Chesapeake Canals. Such a movement successfully carried out would mean much to the nation as well as to our State and anything that can be done by us to promote this object, by legislation or otherwise, and involving no expense to the State, would undoubtedly be cheerfully done.

The affairs of this State for the past four years have been very wisely and successfully administered, and the people to-day have the greatest respect for, and confidence in him who has during that period occupied the office of Chief Executive. No State has a prouder record than ours, and there are no better people anywhere than our own. With such an experience for an incentive and guide and with such resources of men and means as we possess to-day, we need have no fear for the future. Let us examine our history, study it carefully, and derive profit therefrom by avoiding the mistakes that have been made and by making an honest effort to improve on the many wise things that have been done. Such a course will make the future of this Commonwealth brighter, happier, and more prosperous than the past.

On the conclusion of the address of the Governor, Mr. Spruance of the House moved that the journals of the two Houses be read and compared,

Which motion prevailed.

Whereupon the two journals were read by the respective Clerks, compared and approved.

The contingent funds of this department appropriated for the years 1907 and 1908, by your Honorable Body are inadequate to defray the necessary expenses of the office during these years, the amount set aside having been exceeded by the sum of $264.62, the vouchers of which I shall present to the Committee on Claims for allowance.

The Commissioner further has the honor to report that, during the year 1907, there were under his supervision thirty-three life insurance companies, three of which are Delaware corporations; and for the year 1908 there were thirty-two life insurance companies, six of which are Delaware corporations.

There were in force January 1, 1907, on the lives of residents of Delaware, 130,286 policies of insurance issued by life insurance companies now licensed to transact business here and the amount insured was $34,794.36. And for the year commencing January 1, 1908, there were in force 135,074 policies, and the amount insured was $35,510,857.73. As of January 1, 1907, premiums and assessments received, $1,296,778.30; losses paid, 1,749 policies amounting to $358,903.09, and losses incurred, 1,772 policies amounting to $367,328.08.

There were in force January 1, 1908, on the lives of residents of this State on which premiums and assessments were paid of $1,326,539.55. Losses paid on 1,967 policies amounting to $337,650.44 and losses incurred on 1,996 policies amounting to $345,686.76. This does not include certificates of insurance issued by fraternal beneficiary associations.

The General Assembly of the last session as regards the enactment of laws relating to life insurance companies was along lines safe, sound and conservative, and your Honorable Body can well congratulate yourself that your work will bear the test of time and experience. The question at the present time agitating life insurance management is the excessive taxation by the various States of the Union, especially on the premiums collected from the residents thereof.

At the annual meeting in December in New York of the Presidents of life insurance companies of the United States and Canada, it was felt and so stated that the taxation of gross premiums paid by policy holders was inequitable and exceedingly burdensome as imposed by the various States of the Union, among which there was a very great variance, but Delaware was not classed as one of the gross offenders. Many of the States have onerous occupation taxes, and until there is some equilization of these burdens by the various States, I see no reason to recommend any change in the laws of Delaware pertaining to taxation, at this time.

The Commissioner is fully persuaded, however, that the idea so prevalent that the Insurance Department is to secure all the revenue possible, is erroneous and a grievous mistake. The Insurance Department is for the sole purpose of supervision and the companies transacting business in Delaware should pay enough to give complete and adequate and full supervision and all the cost thereof with full publicity and any amount in excess of these exactions is inequitable and the future will undoubtedly regard it as a grievous burden and as unethical.

Fire, etc.

The fire insurance business is on a very fair and equitable basis. The New York standard policy is the principal policy in use in Delaware and I feel that there can be no reasonable ground for complaint from any one in Delaware as they are treated fairly by the companies.

Beyond my oft-repeated recommendations that a Fire Marshal shall be appointed I have no further recommendations as to fire insurance. The fire insurance companies doing business here wrote, during the year 1907, insurance amounting to $69,588,854.84 on property located in Delaware, for which they received in premiums $553,660.29 and paid in losses $319,806.14. The casualty and surety insurance companies received in premiums $100,895.39 and paid in losses $26,916.44. For the year 1907 ninety-eight fire insurance companies, eight of which are Delaware corporations, were doing business in Delaware. The casualty and surety or bonding companies and other miscellaneous companies received in premiums $100,895.39 and paid in losses $26,916.44.

All the insurance companies doing business in the State collected, during the year 1907, from their Delaware business, gross premiums of $1,981,095.23; incurred losses amounting to $684,373.02 and paid losses amounting to $684,373.02.

Fraternal Beneficiary Associations.

The fraternal beneficiary associations doing business in Delaware reported 9,010 policies in force January 1, 1908, amounting to $8,330,502.50, with 103 death losses incurred of $76,241, and paid 93 death losses of $66,301.66. Disability losses incurred of $8,348.10 among 679 policy holders and paid 524 claims of $11,602.30.

The Commissioner again wishes to reiterate that fraternal insurance laws should be adopted, so as to give the Commissioner some authority to supervise them, as the power now vested in him is very meagre, the only prevention of others, without any merit or sufficient resources, being admitted to the State, was the ruling of the Department, which prevented them from transacting business in the State. Above all they should be compelled to charge adequate rates, founded upon some kind of mortality tables. The fraternal organizations are publishing literature upon this matter, asking that the business shall be placed upon some kind of a sound basis. The fraternal are doing a splendid work, and they should be strengthened in every way possible, and not destroyed. The Fraternal Congress has prepared a model Act, which I would recommend to your Honorable Body to consider.

The building and loan associations are somewhat tardy in reporting to this Department. One corporation that does business in Delaware and elsewhere is now liquidating.

The reports of all loan associations of Delaware have been tabulated and published, it being the desire of the Department to give all adequate publicity to their affairs, as to all other departments which come under the supervision of the Insurance Department.

Savings banks, State banks and trust companies. There are two mutual savings banks, both Delaware corporations; two State banks, one of which has three banking institutions or houses, and ten trust companies, two of which have three banking house. The banking institutions under the Departments supervision had, on November 27, 1908, aggregate assets of $23,582,826.50; deposits of $17,397,695; capital of $2,171,900.00; surplus funds of $2,752,376.52 and undivided profits, less current expenses and taxes of $968,593.32.

As regards the tax on all banking institutions within the State the law was approved by the Governor after the adjournment of the last General Assembly; and no provision was made for a contingent fund to make its provisions operative after the Department of Insurance found that it was incumbent upon it to assess the tax and collect the same from the various banking institutions. A statement was called for by all banks and trust companies, operating in Delaware, of the capital, surplus and undivided profits, and deducting from the total amount thereof, the county assessed value of the real estate in which the banking house was situated and owned by them, and the balance thereof was assessed as the law required. After the assessment had been made and most all of the corporations had paid the tax so levied, one or two National banks paid the same under protest, claiming that in a recent decision of the Supreme Court of the United States, it was held that the State had no power to tax United States Government bonds or securities or securities guaranteed by the Government of the United States, and as part of the assets of the banks were in Government bonds, that the tax so assessed against them and collected was illegal. I immediately consulted with the Attorney-General, who advised me that he had followed the case in question, and was conversant with it and gave me a written opinion, that I had no authority to assess the Government bonds held by any of the corporations as assets thereof and that the amount so collected could be returned. I immediately called for a restatement from all the banks and trust companies, made the necessary and proper assessments, levied the tax, making proper deductions, and if any excess of tax had been paid I returned the same.

For the years 1907 and 1908 the tax was assessed and collected from every corporation in the State liable thereunder. For all of which the Commissioner has received no compensation, and no contingent fund to carry the same into execution.

The performance of all these duties has necessitated expenditures by the Commissioner from his private funds for the use of the State for the years 1907 and 1908, the sum of $264.62 for which amount the Commissioner will present vouchers to the Committee on Claims.

As this additional duty was imposed upon the Commissioner, while in the performance of his usual duties as Insurance Commissioner, he should receive some compensation for the assessment and collection in the two years of $31,672.83, which was covered into the Treasury of the State without the expenditure of a single cent upon the part of the State.

In this connection the Commissioner would recommend that his successor should have at least twelve hundred dollars as a contingent fund each year to conduct the affairs of his office and I do not think the salary he is paid is sufficient compensation for the work done by his office and for the responsibility he assumes in his official capacity in looking after and safeguarding every policy of insurance, whether life, fire, surety or miscellaneous, held by every man, woman or child within the State, besides supervision over loan, savings banks and trust companies. It seems that county officials are more adequately paid than are your State officials.

As to surety business, the State discriminates against its own banking corporations that are engaged in surety or bonding, and the Commissioner thinks the fees charged Delaware corporations should not be greater than those charged non-Delaware corporations, and therefore recommends that the law be amended to remedy the inequality.

I append herewith the number of foreign agency licenses for the respective years of 1907 and 1908.

	1907	1908
Life	247	249
Fire	100	115
Miscellaneous	55	54

Delaware now has several large life and fire insurance companies incorporated under Delaware laws, transacting business in Delaware and other States of the Union, and inasmuch as most all other States apply the retaliatory law against our Delaware corporations, the Commissioner recommends that the foreign agency license for all agents be abolished.

For 1908 ninety-one fire insurance companies, eight of which are Delaware corporations; thirty-five surety and casualty companies, three of which were Delaware corporations; thirty-six fraternal beneficiary associations; thirteen building and loan associations, all Delaware corporations, two doing business in Delaware and elsewhere, and the balance in Delaware only.

The Report of the Insurance Commissioner is herewith presented and it is respectfully suggested that at least 500 copies shall be printed for the use of the General Assembly and the Department.

Secretary of State, being admitted, presented to the Senate the following report, which was ordered spread upon the journal:

January 1, 1909.

To the Senate and House of Representatives of the State of Delaware in General Assembly met:—

The State Library Commission begs to report that a steady and increased demand for traveling libraries throughout the State has been supplied so far as the means of the Commission has enabled the librarian to meet applications for them. There are sixty-six of these libraries and as stated by the librarian most of the applications for their use come from the teachers of county schools and from Sunday Schools. At the expiration of the time to which the loan of a library is limited, it may be renewed or exchanged for another, care being taken that the books in the second shall not be duplicates of the one returned.

The selection of books and the repairing of worn volumes entails much additional work on the librarian, and frequently calls for outside help, which thus far has been rendered gratuitously—many worn books being thus repaired are now in use that would otherwise have been cast aside. These small libraries supply the country people with reading, which in its selection, is properly guarded from trashy literature, and the books are rightly valued as an aid to education and esteemed as one of the pleasant resources of country life.

The biennial report of the librarian gives more in detail the method pursued in conducting the circulation of the libraries and the high estimate in which they are held by teachers and others who enjoy the privilege of the gratuitous use of them. The Commission has been fortunate in securing and retaining the services, as librarian, of Miss Ida V. Culbreth, by whose efficient management and devotion at a very moderate salary this educational movement has proved so successful.

The Commission feel indebted to Mr. Thomas W. Wilson who has kindly acted as Treasurer in addition to his duties under the Library Act as Secretary of the Commission—his report of its expenditures is hereto annexed.

Respectfully submitted by the Commission.

M. HAYES,
President.

The State Library Commission at their regular stated meeting, January 21, 1909, passed the following resolution:

That the Commission endorses the biennial report of President Hayes to the State Legislature, also the reports of the Librarian and Treasurer, and recommend that the Legislature grant an increase of appropriation from seven hundred dollars to fifteen hundred dollars per annum, the present sum being inadequate to the needs of the Commission to meet the growing demand and to further this good work the Commission is now doing.

THOMAS W. WILSON,
Secretary.

The Librarian presents the report of the State Traveling Libraries of Delaware for the years 1907 and 1908:

While the traveling libraries are sent throughout the State to clubs, granges and associations, the most important work is in connection with the public schools and the Sunday Schools. The superintendents in the three counties have most kindly recommended them to the teachers, and at the teachers' institute, where one of the small libraries is usually on exhibition, they have urged the use of them in the schools.

After a trial of the libraries, more than one teacher has expressed herself as greatly pleased with the result—the books having proved helpful to her and having “aroused in the pupils a desire for good reading.”

There are sixty-six of these libraries containing about fifty volumes each. They are loaned for three months, with the privilege of renewal for three months longer. Transportation in both directions is free of charge.

There is also an open shelf collection of about one hundred and fifty volumes—these books have been loaned to the Women's Clubs in the State and also to teachers and to individuals who were pursuing special lines of study.

In 1907 and 1908 the traveling libraries were circulated two hundred and thirty-five times, and they were distributed in the three counties as follows: Seventy-nine were sent to New Castle County, eighty-three to Kent and seventy-three to Sussex. During this time fifty-one libraries have been circulated among the Sunday Schools in the State.

At an early date the Commission hopes to have a full set of works on different mission fields, so that it will then be possible to supply to rural committees books for young people for their mission study work.

Respectfully submitted,

I. V. CULBRETH,

Librarian.

Wilmington, Del., February 1, 1909.

Lieutenant-Governor Mendinhal,

Senate Chamber,

Dover, Del.

My Dear Sir:—In the name of the State Headquarters Committee of the Anti-Saloon League of Delaware, we are pleased to invite the members of the Senate of Delaware to attend in a body and hear Hon. Seaborn Wright of Georgia, who will address a local option mass meeting in the Dover Opera House on next Monday evening, February 8th, at 8 o'clock.

The fact that Mr. Wright has been for twenty years or more a member of the Georgia Legislature, where his experiences have taught him to be an authority on all legislative matters ought to make him an interesting speaker for the members of your honorable body to hear. In addition to his success in securing temperance legislation for Georgia, Mr. Wright's public record has resulted in the enactment of advanced public school laws, pure food regulations, legislation against child labor, etc., all of which subjects are vital to Delaware as well as to Georgia. Governor Hoke Smith, of Georgia, pronounces Mr. Wright the most prominent temperance orator on the American platform to-day. To hear him will doubtless be delightful.

We shall be glad to reserve desirable seats for the members of the Senate in case this invitation is accepted, and it will please us to have every member of the Senate present.

We are, yours very cordially,

S. M. MORGAN,
JOSEPH BROWN TURNER,
JOHN B. HUTTON,

The hour of 2.15 having arrived the Senate in pursuance to previous resolution convened in joint session in the House of Representatives.

Joint Session, February 4, 1909.

Roll called. Members present—Messrs. Anderson, Barnard, Conner, Drexler, Dutton, Flinn, Hart, Iliffe, Miller, Monaghan, Morrison, Rowland, Sheldrake, Mr. President pro tem.

Mr. President ordered the Secretary of the Senate to read the resolution convening the two Houses in joint session, which was read as follows:

Whereas, His Excellency, the Governor, has received a communication relative to presentation of certain Royal Patents, copy of which letter is herewith attached; therefore

Be it Resolved by the Senate, the House concurring therein, that the General Assembly convene in joint session in the hall of the House of Representatives on Thursday, February 4, at 2.15 P. M., to be present at the acceptance of said papers by His Excellency, the Governor.

Mr. J. Ernest Smith, of Wilmington, having been offered the privilege of the floor, delivered the following address:

Your Excellency, Mr. President, and Members of the Senate and House:

Mrs. Sarah Wistar Miller has requested me, as her counsel and friend, to present certain ancient documents to the State of Delaware, and in accepting this pleasant duty, I feel that no greater honor can befall me, as a Delawarean, than being called upon to present to the State of Delaware the Royal Patent, and the ancient deeds and leases for the territory comprising the sovereign domains of my native State.

This voluntary gift is made to the State by Sarah Wistar Miller, of Media, Delaware County, Pennsylvania, who is the wife of Honorable William H. Miller, one of the Pennsylvania Commission to fix the boundary line between Delaware and Pennsylvania.

This gift is made through the Delaware Society of the Colonial Dames of America, and appropriately so, since this Society has done, and is doing, much to find and preserve the ancient and historical papers of this State.

Of all the early papers pertaining to the history of Delaware either as a province, a colony, or as a Sovereign State, these papers are undoubtedly the most important and valuable, and their possession will be a just cause of satisfaction to our people.

In presenting these papers it would seem meet, considering their great historical and legal value, to give as best I may, a concise statement of the papers themselves, their history, authenticity and value, and the need of their preservation.

The papers now presented consist of:

1st. Letters patent from Charles II, King of England, to his Royal Highness, James, Duke of York, dated March 22d, A. D. 1683, for New Castle and the twelve mile circle, and tract of land south of the same to Cape Lopen.

2d. Deed of Feoffment from His Royal Highness, James, Duke of York, to William Penn, son and heir of Sir William Penn, Knight, dated August 24th, A. D. 1682, for the Town of New Castle, and the land within the circle of twelve miles about the same, and all islands in the Delaware River, and the said River and the soil thereof, lying North of the Southermost part of the said circle of twelve miles about the said Town.

3d. Indenture of Leases for ten thousand years from his Royal Highness, James, Duke of York, to William Penn, son and heir of Sir William Penn, Knight, dated August 24th, A. D. 1682, for the Town of New Castle and the tract of land and soil lying within the twelve mile circle about the same.

4th. Indenture of lease for ten thousand years from His Royal Highness, James, Duke of York, to William Penn, son and heir of Sir William Penn, Knight, dated August 24th, A. D. 1682, for a tract of land upon Delaware River and Bay, beginning twelve miles South from New Castle and extending South to Cape Lopen.

As the Royal Patent from Charles II to James, Duke of York, bore date August 24th, A. D. 1682, nearly seven months before the Royal Patent, it is apparent that this discrepancy would be a probable source of contention and litigation between claimants for the land under apparently conflicting patents.

Without here going into the detail in regard to this litigation, it is sufficient to say that these identical parchment Letters Patent were in evidence in the case of Penn vs. Lord Baltimore, filed June 21st, A. D. 1735, and decided in the High Court of Chancery in England in 1750. In this case Lord Hardwick finally disposed of Lord Baltimore's claims to the land now comprising the State of Delaware. In his opinion in this case (1 Ves. Sr. 444-453) he says: "I am of the opinion that full and actual possession is sufficient title to maintain a suit for settling boundaries, a strict title is never entered into in cases of this kind. * * * I will say, once for all, that long possession and enjoyment * * * is one of the best titles to lands in America that can be * * * .”

In the trial of this case these papers were in evidence as constituting Penn's title, and the “decree of Lord Hardwick settled the validity and legal sufficiency of these deeds, the right of the province under them, and, of course, its boundaries as described in the Deeds.”

This was the same province which was founded in 1682, these were the Deeds under which it was founded, and these were the boundaries by which it had been defined from the beginning.

Briefly then, these papers constituted the title of the Province and Colony of Delaware up to the time of the Declaration of Independence, and form the ultimate basis of all real estate titles in this State to-day.

Under this Title William Penn took possession of what is now Delaware, and it is important to note how careful he was that his seizure should conform to law.

In the records of New Castle County there is recorded the statement of John Moll, one of the Duke of York's attorneys appointed to give Penn possession of the lands, in which he certifies that William Penn at his first arrival from England by the Town of New Castle in the month of October, A. D. 1682, notified the Commissioners of his desire to speak to them, and that he, Moll, being left the first in commission, upon such notice, went aboard Penn's vessel, and was there shown two deeds of feoffment from the Duke of York, dated August 24th, 1682, one for New Castle and the twelve mile circle, and the other extending South from New Castle to Cape Henlopen and that he, with the other Commissioners, did give and surrender actual and peaceable possession of the fort of New Castle, “by giving him the key thereof to lock upon himself alone, which was opened by him again, and we delivered also unto him one turf with a twig upon it, a porringer with river water and soil, in part of all that was specified in said deed”; and a few days afterward, in like manner, they made delivery of the other lands in Delaware.

These deeds from the time that Penn submitted them to the people of New Castle, October 28th, A. D. 1682, up to the present time, have been carefully guarded and cherished and their authenticity conclusively proven, so that they are the true and bona fide Deeds upon which rest primarily the title to the State and the titles of the inhabitants thereof to this day.

The first attack upon Penn's title was made by Lord Baltimore May 21st, A. D. 1683, who prayed that the grant might not pass until the extent of his grant should be determined, and finally it was decided, November 7th, A. D. 1865, (1 Votes Penna. Assembly XIII) to divide the lands in dispute in accordance with the decree. Notwithstanding this decree, and the agreement then made between Penn and Baltimore, Lord Baltimore brought the matter before Queen Anne in January 1708, when his appeal was dismissed. Not yet satisfied he presented his claims again before the Council, where his petition was again dismissed, and the order of November 7th, A. D. 1685, was confirmed in all its parts, and put into execution.

After the Chancery proceedings before Lord Hardwick in 1750, and subsequent Chancery proceedings twelve years later, this dispute was terminated, but it was not until 1775 that the Westerly line between Delaware and Maryland was firmly established.

The next attack was in the Pea Patch Island Case determining the boundaries of Delaware and New Jersey and more particularly the title of the State of Delaware to the territory within the twelve mile circle, within which circle was the Pea Patch Island.

The State of Delaware, May 27th, A. D. 1813, ceded its title to this Island to the United States for a fortress, and James Humphries, of New Jersey, claimed title to the same from New Jersey.

By agreement, Hon. John Sergeant was appointed arbitrator, and on January 14th, A. D. 1848, he delivered his opinion, awarding the Island to the United States (30 Fed Case, P. 1123, Case 18, 311). At this trial this Patent and Deeds were in evidence, and their authenticity proved.

The next attack was the case in the Supreme Court of the United States, between the State of New Jersey and Delaware, the subject matter of which was the right of Delaware to enforce her fishery laws in the Delaware River within the twelve mile circle. This case has been terminated by agreement between the States, and the Agreement has been ratified by the Congress of the United States.

Again in this trial the Royal Patents and Deeds were in evidence, and their authenticity again proved.

The history of this Charter is quite singular and romantic. It is not printed in any of the ancient books of Delaware Laws; it does not seem to have been put upon record in either Delaware, Pennsylvania or New York.

When the Earl of Sutherland applied in 1716 for a Charter for lands upon Delaware Bay, offering to prove that such lands belonged to the Crown, it appears that after much search the existence of this Charter was discovered, but it was presumed that the Duke of York had some grants thereto, which Mr. Penn might give an account of, but he could not, then being under a lunacy.

This original patent from the King to the Duke of York for Delaware, and of the Duke's grants to William Penn, and leases here described were brought to Philadelphia by Mr. John R. Coates, of that city, who was an agent of the estates in Pennsylvania belonging to Mr. Penn's descendants in England. Mr. Coates got possession of them in 1811, when on a visit to his principals in England. Being at their seat, Stoke Pogis, he was shown by them into the Charter room of their house, where he was told by John Penn, the great grandson of William Penn, that he might find some old deeds, etc., that would interest him as an American, and to which he was welcome. Happening to find the Patents and Deeds just mentioned, he brought them to Philadelphia. Mr. Coates gave these papers to his son-in-law, Mr. Jacob Giles Morris, who afterwards gave them to his sister, Caroline G. Pennock, of Delaware County, Pennsylvania, and at her death they came to her daughter and only heir, Mrs. Sarah Wistar Miller, who has deposited them in the original box in which they came from Mr. Coates, in a private safe in the Equitable Guarantee and Trust Company of Wilmington, Delaware, of which I have the key, ready to deliver, through the representative of the Colonial Dames, to his Excellency, the Governor of the State.

The legal validity of these patents, deeds and leases can never be successfully impeached, their authenticity and proper custody have been conclusively proven from the time of their issuance up to the time of their deposit in The Equitable Guarantee and Trust Company aforesaid, and the continuance of this custody which is of great importance to the papers themselves, will hereafter rest, as it should, with the State of Delaware, which, of all those interested, has the greatest interest and concern in their safe custody and preservation. That proper care shall be taken of them is the sole request of both Mrs. Miller and the Colonial Dames, and, with all due respect, it is suggested that each of these papers should be placed in a steel case, with glass fronts and backs, so that they may be seen and inspected by our people, and that a fire and burglar proof safe be provided to hold the cases.

This voluntary gift is of the greatest value to Delaware, as from these papers alone it received its first existence. To-day it is first in actual possession of its original Royal Charter.

This Charter has an historic interest second to none of the Royal Patents issued by the Kings of England for the American Colonies.

From this review, which I have endeavored to make as concise as possible, it will be readily seen what great obligations we as Delawareans are under to Mrs. Sarah Wistar Miller. But for the care and protection which she and her ancestors have taken of these papers for nearly an hundred years, they would have been lost to Delaware; but for these papers, Lord Baltimore's domains would have extended to the West shores of Delaware Bay and River; but for these papers New Jersey would have had a valid claim to Fort Delaware; and but for them, Delaware itself, as a political entity, would be non-existent.

I now hand the key of the safe containing these papers to Mrs. Charles R. Miller, President of the Delaware Society of the Colonial Dames, that she may formally deliver the possession of these documents to you.

Mrs. Charles R. Miller then presented the key and receipts to the box containing the certain Royal Patents:

The object of this Society which I am representing to-day is not merely a social organization existing for the purpose of glorifying one's ancestors, but its prime object for existing is to collect and preserve relics, manuscripts, and mementoes of by-gone days. To preserve and restore buildings connected with the early history of our country, and diffuse a spirit of true patriotism among our people. It is a matter of pride and gratification to me to-day that one of our members is able and willing to present to this State papers and manuscripts of such historic value. Not only great historic value but great monetary value. Other States have been obliged to purchase many of their State papers. You have been recipient of this priceless gift. It may interest you to know that this Royal Charter is in a remarkable state of preservation; it is 30x27 inches, executed in the exquisite penmanship which the seventeenth century could produce, before the age when stenography made handwriting one of the lost arts. At the top of the parchment the head of Charles II is etched in exquisite style, surrounded by the seals of England, Scotland and Ireland, with beautiful scroll work on either side. Our Society was largely instrumental in securing from our recent Governor the appointment of a Division of Records, and this Commission has performed a noble service in caring for and preserving many of the State's most valuable manuscripts. It remains for you, our legislators, to provide a safe and sure place in which to keep them. But the crowning glory of our efforts has been achieved to-day when we are able to put into your hands, through the generosity of our Society and the instrumentality of Mr. Robert H. Richards and Mr. J. Earnest Smith, manuscripts of such priceless value for the enrichment of our State archives.

Governor S. S. Pennewill, on behalf of the State, then delivered his response.

Col. Smith, and through you I have the honor of addressing Mrs. Sarah Wistar Miller, of Media, Pennsylvania, in accepting this priceless gift, I desire, on the part of the State of Delaware and her people, as the chief executive of the State, to express to you the appreciative thanks of the State of Delaware for this patriotic donation.

Unfortunately for Delaware, we cannot count Mrs. Miller among our citizens. She is, however, a citizen of our great sister commonwealth of Pennsylvania, and since our country is formed by a union of sovereign States, making us all citizens of one great nation, the act of the donor of these ancient muniments of the title of Delaware to her sovereign territory, is an act of the highest patriotism.

Delaware is proud in the possession of the ancient bible that is guarded so carefully, and of the old bell, for which Mrs. William S. Hillis has been recently, with commendable thoughtfulness, furnished a suitable and safe support, and of other objects of historic interest, but I do not hesitate to say that this State can count nothing, either among her possessions or in her traditions, which approaches in historic value and patriotic interest these priceless documents. Nor would I seem to lose sight of the intrinsic value of this gift. By discovery and conquest, the portion of North America which includes the territory of this State, under the law, became in early times the property of what was then the kingdom of England. Among these parchments is the original grant, under the great seal of England, by King Charles II to the Duke of York, of the land and the water which is now included within the confines of this State; and so also the original deeds of the feoffment from the Duke of York to William Penn, to whose title the State of Delaware succeeded. Thus it appears that the paper title of the soil of Delaware begins and rests upon these documents.

It is indeed fortunate that these documents fell into the hands of Mrs. Miller and her ancestors, who have guarded and preserved them so carefully for a century. Through their care, guardianship, and patriotism Delaware can now proudly display muniments of her title such as are possessed by but few of the thirteen original colonies, which in 1776 separated themselves from the sovereignty of the British Crown.

And through you Madam President, to the Delaware Society of the Colonial Dames of America, I desire to express the thanks of the State of Delaware and her people for the commendable and patriotic interest it has taken in the presentation of these ancient documents to the State. The work of your society in discovering and preserving valuable papers and other objects of historic interest cannot be too highly praised.

In view of the value and importance of these documents I now recommend that the General Assembly of this State procure a suitable fire and burglar proof safe for their preservation, containing cases so constructed as that the documents can be seen without being touched, and that such safe be directed to be kept in the vault in the office of the Secretary of State and in his official custody.

I do hereby recommend to the General Assembly that they do, by appropriate joint resolution, again express to the donor of this gift through themselves, as constituting the Legislative branch of the government of the State, the thanks of the people of this State; and that they order the proceeding to this joint session of the General Assembly to be printed, and the copy thereof, suitably bound in leather, to be presented to Mrs. Sarah Wistar Miller, and another copy thereof, similarly bound, to be presented to the Delaware Society of the Colonial Dames of America."

Mr. President presented the following communication:

Wilmington, Del., February 3, 1909.

Hon John M. Mendinhall,
Lieutenant-Governor,
Dover, Delaware.

My Dear Lieutenant-Governor:—Through you I desire to call the attention of the members of your body to the desirability of there being a fixed home-coming week established for the State of Delaware. A home-coming week has become an established institution in Massachusetts and other States, and two local attempts have been made in this State in this direction, one in Wilmington in 1907 and one at Georgetown in 1908. Both of these affairs were successful in the highest degree, and showed the inclinations of our home people to support such occasions.

It is probable that no State in the Union has sent out as many men, in proportion to its population, as the State of Delaware, and it can be safely said that the homeing instinct of Delawareans who have left our State is stronger than that existing in the natives of any other State in the Union. Our small territory, our close association with each other, our fixed habits and customs, which have come down to us through many generations, all tend to draw Delawareans together and induce strong inclinations toward home in the breasts of those who have left the soil.

I therefore beg to suggest to the members of your honorable body that either by bill or by joint resolution, a week in each year be fixed and established as Delaware's home-coming week, and that the Governor be authorized and directed to appoint a committee annually, in January of each year, to take charge of the celebration for that particular year. I do not think it necessary that any money be appropriated for the use of this committee as our former experience in Wilmington and in Georgetown has proven that the citizens will be ready and willing to furnish the necessary funds, yet it might be desirable to place in the hands of the first committee a small sum of money in order that they might proceed promptly to the making up of a full and complete list of the names of all persons who can trace their lineage to Delaware soil and are now non-residents of this State. It would require much labor and some expense to secure such a list and as funds for the same would be required at once, a small appropriation would enable the committee to proceed to work promptly for this year.

Kindly feeling toward our absent ones, a patriotic pride in our State, and incidentally, business advantages that might benefit our home people, all impel us toward the carrying out of this suggestion, and I doubt not that neither arguing nor urging will be required to carry it into effect.

I am writing a similar letter to the presiding officer of the House.

I remain with highest regards,

Most truly yours,

JOSIAH MARVEL.

S. J. R. No. 2, entitled:

Senate Joint Resolution fixing the time beyond which no new business will be received by the present session of the General Assembly.

Mr. Drexler presented the following report:

We, the members of the committee appointed by the Senate, to inquire into the necessity of additional clerical assistance in the offices of the Secretary of State and of the State Auditor and investigate as to the expenditure of the contingent fund of these offices, beg to report that we have visited these offices and investigated the manner and methods of conducting the work of said offices, and have ascertained the amount of labor involved in keeping accurate accounts of the business of said offices, and have found that owing to the greatly increased amount of work caused by the General Corporation Law and the change from the fee system to the salary system that the Secretary of State requires the services of an additional clerk, which said clerk we find can be secured at an expenses of not exceeding six hundred dollars per annum.

We further recommend that should this Legislature see fit to authorize the employment of such clerk, that the contingent fund of the Secretary of State be reduced from fifteen hundred dollars per annum to one thousand dollars per annum.

We further find that the State Auditor has heretofore employed an assistant which he has paid, but this amount has been allowed to him by the Committee on Claims. We therefore recommend that the State Auditor be authorized and empowered to secure the services of a clerk at a salary not exceeding six hundred dollars per annum.

Signed: LOUIS A. DREXLER, Chairman.

To the Senate and House of Representatives.

Gentlemen:—Your Joint Committee on Accounts which was instructed to settle with the State Treasurer and other State officers, beg leave to report as follows:

The Committee awarded the contract of auditing the several accounts to Chauncey P. Holcomb, and we herewith submit his report in detail.

We are pleased to report that all accounts have been found correct and we have certified the books accordingly.

REMSEN C. BARNARD,
Chairman Joint Committee on Accounts

FRANCIS deH. JANVIER,
Secretary Joint Committee on Accounts.

Dover, Delaware, February 20, 1909.

To the Joint Committee on Accounts of the General Assembly.

Gentlemen:—I herewith submit my report of the result of my audit of the various State Departments.

CHAUNCEY P. HOLCOMB,
Auditor.

SECRETARY OF STATE.

Receipts.

Corporation fees	$44,707.80
Automobile and operators' licenses.....	3,100.00
Civil commissions	841.00
		$48,648.80

Disbursements.

The above amount has been paid into the State Treasury, as follows:

To Thomas N. Rawlins, State Treasurer:
Corporation fees	$42,103.50
Automobile registrations, etc.....	2,175.00
Civil commissions	755.00
		45,033.50
To David O. Moore, State Treasurer:
Corporation fees	$2,604.30
Automobile registration, etc.....	925.00
Civil commissions	86.00
		3,615.30
		$48,648.80

Included in the receipts from corporation fees ($44,707.80) is $200 paid by four foreign corporations (at $50.00 each) and all fees for certificates pertaining to corporations.

The amount paid over to Mr. David O. Moore on January 27, 1909, ($3,615.30) will appear in the report of the State Treasurer for the year 1909, but it is included in settlement with the Secretary of State, as said officer's term expired on the nineteenth day of January, 1909.

The books and accounts of the office of the Secretary of State are kept in a most excellent manner.

The most important State papers, including all enrolled bills, original charters, etc., are kept in a so-called fire proof vault, but in reality is nothing but a closet, which is entirely too small for the fast accumulation of papers. Provision should be made at once for ample room in a thoroughly fire proof vault for the filing of these valuable papers.

In compliance with a law passed by the last General Assembly, the Secretary of State has paid over to the State Treasurer monthly all moneys received by him and due the State.

In this department there is great need of some system of book-keeping, as well as having some record of all transactions of the department.

The only record of licenses issued by the Insurance Commissioner, as well as certificates of authority for insurance companies to do business in this State, is on the stub from which each license or certificate is taken.

The only book which would impart any information concerning the receipts of this department is one, which, according to the statement of the late Insurance Commissioner, was kept by him as a personal memorandum and is not a part of the records of the department. It, however, only pertains to the insurance business, and there is nothing to impart any information concerning the banking business, except by going over the book in which is kept the account of each bank.

The contingent fund of this department has been exhausted for the year 1908, and the Insurance Commissioner has presented the following duly receipted bills for my inspection. These bills were examined and stamped "Audited" by me at the request of said Commissioner. The bills are as follows:

George Fisher Pierce	$8.00
Postage	31.13
Express	7.40
G. W. Marshall (N. Y. trip).....	7.00
Postage	52.04
Rent of office, Mrs. Slaughter.....	30.00
Telephone bill	6.01
Dover Gas Light Co. (Gas).....	5.00
Postage	47.66
National Convention of Insurance Commissioners.....	40.00
Julian B. Robinson75
J. Frank Starling	29.65
	$264.64

Included in the above-stated bills are two that have not been paid. They are as follows:

National Convention of Insurance Commissioners...	$40.00
J. Frank Starling	29.65
	<hr/>

Making a total of $69.65 .

which amount should be deducted from the first above-stated amounts of $264.64, leaving a balance due the late Insurance Commissioner of $194.99.

I would recommend that a cash book be kept for entering all moneys received by the department, and posted from that to the individual account of the concern paying such money, and that a book be kept for registering the names of persons, firms, etc., to whom licenses and certificates of authority are granted, and that the names be entered in said book or register alphabetically.

The cost of instituting a satisfactory method of book-keeping in this department would be very small and would enable any further Auditor to make a comprehensive statement of the accounts of the department with very little trouble.

I would also recommend that a fire proof safe be procured at once for this department, as the valuable records thereof have no protection against fire.

The accounts of the Delaware State Hospital at Farnhurst are kept in excellent condition, and the method of book-keeping is such that detailed information can easily be had.

Included in the amount of expenditures ($2,737.18) there are nineteen (19) checks aggregating $105.00, which were given for prizes at a corn exhibition, which have not been returned from bank and filed, and for which there are no receipts.

In this department I find a very poor system of keeping accounts. The total appropriation was drawn out of the State Treasury in one amount and deposited by the Treasurer of the Board in a bank at Seaford and checked out from time to time. There appears to be no permanent record, in the office of the Board at Dover, of these transactions.

There is a balance of $684.41 in the hands of the Treasurer of the Board, which should, under the law, be returned to the State Treasurer; but I would add that it has not been the custom of this Board to return whatever balances it may have at the end of each year. If legislation as mentioned elsewhere in this report is enacted, the condition described above would be remedied.

I find the books and accounts of the Adjutant- General are kept in most excellent condition, there being bills and vouchers for all moneys expended, and the system in use in that department enables a detailed audit to be readily made. I would add that it has not been the custom of this department to return to the State Treasury any balance of money that may be left of their annual appropriations, except those of the uniform fund.

This is apparently the only department of the State Government that credits to their fund interest on deposits, which, as preceding statement will show, amounted last year to $163.09.

GUARANTEE RAILWAY DEPOSITS.

Included in the balance in the General Fund are the following amounts which have been paid into the State Treasury under the provisions of Section 108 of the General Corporation Law:

Delaware General Electric Railway Co.....	$17,500.00
Delaware Electric Traction Co.	17,500.00
Delaware Suburban Railway Co.	7,000.00
South Wilmington Railway Co.	500.00
Delaware Interurban Railway Co.	7,000.00
Clayton, Smyrna and Bay-Shore Traction Co.....	1,400.00
	$50,900.00

There is no provision for any disposition to be made of this money, and, according to the books in the State Treasurer's office, it is practically a liability of the State.

There is deposited in the Farmers' Bank at Dover to the credit of David O. Moore, custodian of the West Chester and Wilmington Electric Railway Company the sum of $3,000.00, which was deposited with Thomas N. Rawlins, State Treasurer, and deposited in his name as custodian of said company, and duly turned over to his successor in office.

The books and records of the State Treasurer's office are kept in excellent condition.

I find the State Treasurer has made three payments of funds from the General Fund and one from the Sinking Fund for which the General Assembly did not make appropriations to cover, viz.:

There was appropriated $25,000.00 to Delaware College and he paid them $28,000.00.

There was appropriated to the State College for Colored Students $5,000 and he paid them $7,000.

The State Treasurer states that this money was appropriated by the United States Government for the use of these colleges, that it was unexpectedly more than the last General Assembly expected, and that if not paid over for the purposes intended the Government would refuse, under Federal Law, to remit any more of such funds.

The State Treasurer also paid out of the General Fund to Hon. Robert H. Richards, at that time Attorney-General, the sum of $20,812.62, being a certain commission on $83,250.50 received from the United States Government in settlement of claims on account of the War of 1812. He claims to have made this payment in accordance with Chapters 366 and 861, Volume 19, Laws of Delaware. This amount was paid on the written advice of Mr. Richards.

The payment made from the Sinking Fund was $20,744.44, being for twenty $1,000 bonds of the State of Delaware at 4 per cent, issue of 1907, which he had the opportunity of purchasing, and he claims the authority for this payment was given him under Section 43, Chapter 653, Volume 19, Laws of Delaware, and that the Governor and Attorney-General recommended that this purchase be made. These bonds are now held as an asset of the Sinking Fund and the interest thereon is paid to the Sinking Fund semi-annually.

I would recommend that some action be taken by the present Legislature authorizing and directing the State Treasurer to cancel these bonds and their coupons, and would suggest, if it is the desire of the Legislature that an amount equivalent to these bonds be held as an asset of the Sinking Fund, that a certificate of indebtedness be issued to the Sinking Fund by such officials and upon such terms as the Legislature may designate.

The securities belonging to the State have been examined in the presence of the Chairman of your Committee and the contents found to be correct.

I would recommend that all officials receiving money belonging to the State be required to pay such money into the State Treasury monthly, and that all appropriations to the various officials, departments, boards and commissions be retained in the State Treasury and drawn out in the same manner as the contingent funds, viz., on warrants drawn on the State Treasurer, approved by the Auditor of Accounts. This, of course, would only apply to appropriations to departments of the State Government whose sole source of revenue is received from the State.

I would also recommend that some action be taken by this Legislature which would result in an enlargement of the State Treasurer's office and that a fire proof vault be provided him for the proper care and protection of the records of his Department. The only protection for the records of that office at the present time is a safe which is entirely too small for the number of books, papers and records of the department. At the present time the only records, etc., that are kept in said safe are those in constant use; all of the old books of accounts being piled up on the top of the safe and floor. The old vouchers are stored in the cellar of the Library.

Mr. President pro tem. presented the following communication, which was ordered received and filed.

Wilmington, Del., February 23, 1909.

To the President and Members of the Levy Court of New Castle County.

Gentlemen:—I wish to call your attention to a matter which I think at this time should receive your serious consideration.

I refer to the many small towns and villages which are now seeking to become incorporated and to the others which in the near future may do so. These places in many instances not only include the immediate property, but reach out and take in farm lands within a distance of a half-mile and often more; land which will not in all probability be built up for the next twenty-five or fifty years, and which often includes large manufacturing plants and other high-priced property. As under the Acts of incorporation, all this property is exempt from road taxes, you can readily see that our rural taxes for that purpose are very materially reduced; and also that the maintenance of our county roads must fall hereafter exclusively on the remaining farm lands, with the logical conclusion that as the public road extent is not materially curtailed, the taxes must be increased on the farmer instead of being reduced as we had hoped to do. Most of these villages have one or more stores, whose teams use the surrounding roads to a much greater extent than the farmer and it does not seem equitable nor reasonable, that they should not help to keep these roads in repair. It is claimed that these villages need their own tax to keep up their side streets, etc.; this is more of a private affair than a public one and as a matter of fact very few of these side streets are improved, and not even the public roads, generally running through the town, kept in good condition. In the Acts of Incorporation that I have seen, the boundaries of the section to be incorporated are given only in courses, or directions, and leave one in doubt whether the tract is of small area or large. I would suggest that in the future all such towns seeking to become incorporated should have a map of its tract giving, not only the direction of its boundaries, but the distances of the courses and the area of the tract, showing the amount of public road included, and that the Legislature be asked to first submit all such legislation to your honorable body for consideration.

Yours very truly,

JAMES WILSON,
County Engineer,

Approved by the Levy Court February 23, 1909.

Resolved, That the Wilmington Board of Trade through its Board of Directors express its disapproval of the Connelly substitute street paving bill for the following reasons:

First: That in effect it raises our general tax rate to the detriment of our present owners of real estate in the city and will serve as a further obstacle in inducing new capital to invest in real estate in this city.

Second: That it is a general tax laid for a special purpose which in our opinion is wrong in principle and objectionable to our methods of government.

Third: It is in direct conflict with the present method of levying taxes as set forth in our city charter.

Fourth: That it presents all the difficulties and disadvantages that would arise from an increase of our general taxes and further presents special difficulties and disadvantages that would not occur from the present method of levying and collecting our taxes.
